Arterial Report Is Expected

Pine Hill Sector Data Coming Next

Bids for a second section of Route 28 in the western end of the county are expected to be opened in Albany before spring, it was learned today.

Confirmation of reports that the Pine Hill-Big Indian section is due for bidding late next month came from state officials yesterday, and a report on the status of Kingston's arterial route project is due momentarily.

To Open Bids Oct 30

Letters from the office of Gov. Hariman and that of Thomas F. Fitzgerald, chief engineer of the State Public Works Department yesterday said bids for the Pine Hill-Big Indian section will be opened Oct. 30, and fixed the estimated cost at $1,540,000.

Gov. Harriman informed Paul Williams, of Walton, Delaware County, a staunch supporter of early action on repair of upper Route 28, of the bidding date, and Raymond T. Schuler, of Kingston, assistant to the chief engineer, forwarded the information to William A. Kelly, Ulster County Democratic chairman.

Next Bidding Listed

The next bidding, it was learned, will be on the section between Big Indian and Shandaken, and it was indicated that bids on that could be opened during the winter.

Mayor Edwin F. Radel will be notified when the state has definite word on Kingston's arterial route project. It was indicated several weeks ago that plans were advancing to the point of calling for bids.

Schuler's letter to Kelly said: "The Governor has asked me to inform you that on Oct. 30, 1958, the department will accept bids for the reconstruction of Route 28 from Big Indian

Road Oil Co. Official to Appear 2:30

Edwin T. Boyle, secretary and former comptroller of the Lansdell Company, road oil distributors of Hackensack, N. J., and Kingston, who has been sought as a witness before the special grand jury in attendance at the extraordinary session of the Supreme Court investigation alleged kickbacks, was scheduled to appear this afternoon at 2:30.

Boyle on Tuesday lost a fight in the New Jersey courts to stay his appearance here pending an appeal. His appearance here under subpoena had been fought in the New Jersey courts and on Tuesday, following a hearing at Morristown, the Appellate Division of the Superior Court of New Jersey rules he must respond to the subpoena or be held in contempt.

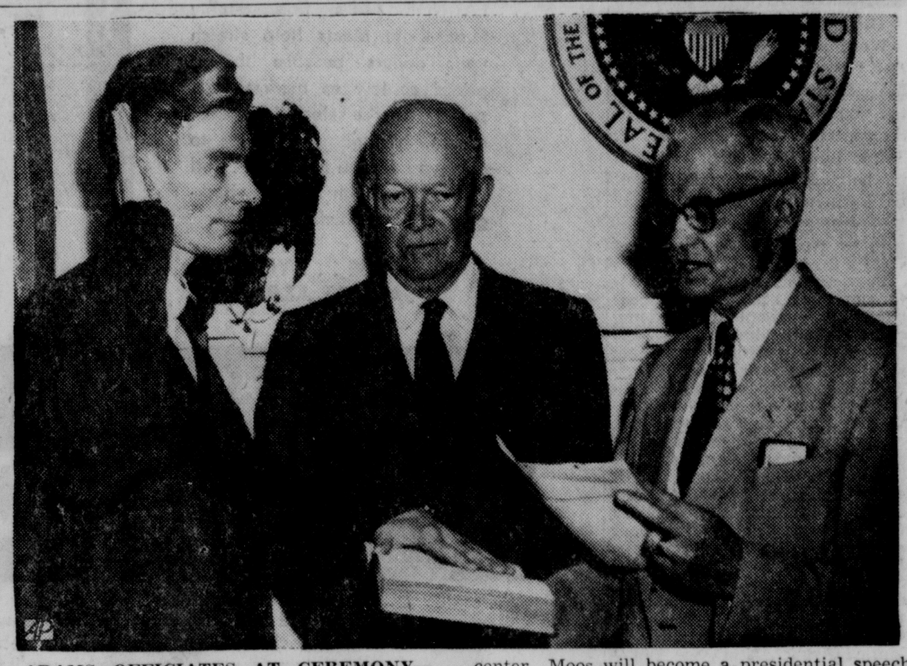

Quiz to Be on Checks

Bernard A. Tompkins, special assistant attorney general in the Ulster County investigation, sought to bring Boyle before the special grand jury to explain checks of substantial amounts which were allegedly drawn to cash.

Walter Winne, Lansdell attorney fought the appearance of Boyle and on Monday Judge J. Wallace Leyden of the New Jersey Superior Court directed Boyle to answer the subpoena. An appeal was taken to New Jersey's highest court and that court denied Winne's application for a stay pending an appeal and directed Boyle to appear today.

States Have Agreement

The subpoena was issued under a reciprocal agreement between New York and New Jersey which permits necessary and important witnesses to be subpoenaed to the adjoining state. Under the subpoena Boyle is required to be in Kingston on September 25 and 26 if necessary.

Bold Act May Alter Situation

Crisis Far From Over, U. S. View

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top-level Pentagon estimate today is that Nationalist China is strong enough to throw back any Red Chinese invasion attempt against Quemoy without help from U.S. combat forces.

Conversely, the Pentagon believes there is no certainty that Nationalist aircraft could knock out Red guns on the China mainland if they tried.

Gloom Is Lifting

This official assessment was based on present circumstances. Authorities said it could change if any of the factors changed—for example, if Red China went all out to conquer Quemoy without regard to frightful military losses or the danger of touching off a nuclear war.

The estimate became known as the gloom pervading the Formosa Strait crisis for a month appeared to be lifting somewhat.

Here were some of the hopeful signs, although officials freely conceded that the crisis was far from over and that Red China could upset the situation by a reckless act:

Some Hopeful Signs

1. The Nationalist government on Formosa announced the Red blockade of the offshore Quemoys was broken. U.S. officials were not quite that enthusiastic. They said Quemoy needs 400 tons of supplies a day and not that much is yet getting through the artillery-raked beaches. Still, the drain on Quemoy's well-stocked reserves was lessened. So was the Nationalist pressure to attack the mainland-based guns which imposed the blockade.

2. The Nationalists claimed 32 of their jets, without losses, shot down 10 and possibly six more out of 100 Communist jets in aerial combat over the strait. This was hailed as another demonstration of Nationalist air superiority.

3. With the United Nations having postponed for another year any action on seating Red China, there was hope Red China might now ease up on its troublemaking in the strait. This hope was founded on belief that Peiping's new threats to Quemoy were designed, in major part at least, to grab attention for its U.N. bid.

The U.S.-Red China ambassadorial talks at Warsaw, meanwhile, were sceduled to go into their fourth session today. Ambassadors Jacob Beam and Wang Ping-nan seemed no closer to agreement on safeguarding Far East peace. Beam was reported still demanding a cease-fire, with Wang holding out for complete U.S. withdrawal from the Formosa area.

Strength About Same

Pentagon figures on relative Nationalist and Communist Chinese military strength in the embattled area showed a balance that just about added up to an impasse.

They included about 80,000 Nationalist soldiers dug in on the seemingly impregnable defenses on Quemoy, and about 85,000 Red soldiers and fairly ineffectual naval forces in the area facing Quemoy. It is a military axiom that any attacking force, especially over water, should outnumber the defenders by two or three to one.

Ballot Case To Be Heard In Albany

The question of whether the independent nominating petitions filed by the Economy Party with the board of election comply with the law, will be heard before Justice William Deckelman at Albany special term Friday morning.

Election Commissioner Joseph Epstein, Democratic member of the board, was served with an order to show cause Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock as he was about to enter religious services and the order was not presented at the Board of Elections office until this morning.

Procedure Attacked

Supreme Court Justice Deckelman, before whom the show cause order is returnable at regular special term, signed the show cause order. The petition, drawn by Pinckey, Cheesman and McDemott, Albany attorneys, attacks the procedure on the board in failing to accept the nominating petitions. The proceedings is brought on under Article 78 of the Civil Practice Act, and not under Section 330 of the Election Law.

Petitioners seek to compel the board of elections of Ulster County to accept the nominating petitions and place the names of the Economy Party candidates on the ballot this fall.

To Ask Examination

County Attorney Arthur A. Davis Jr., meet with Commissioners of Election Seymour Werbalowsky and Joseph Epstein this morning and a reply to the show cause proceeding was drawn. The county attorney will ask the court to examine the petitions and decide on the

IBM Settlement Is $81,900 for Death

An $81,900 settlement in the September 2 death of Joseph W. Reinhardt, 27, at the Poughkeepsie plant of International Business Machines Corp. has been approved by Dutchess County Surrogate W. Vincent Grady.

According to the order signed by Surrogate Grady on September 19, the settlement made by IBM, payable to Reinhardt's widow, Gloria, is equivalent to his salary for the next 15 years. The amount will be paid at the rate of $5,460 annually for 15 years in equal monthly or semi-monthly installments.

Was Born in Kingston

Reinhardt, a native of Kingston was employed as a test technician, working on a large computer when he was electrocuted. Plant phyicians were unable to revive him after trying for over an hour.

The Dutchess County sheriff's office report of the incident said Reinhardt was working with another technician on a "test cell." They were changing and testing the wiring on a magnetic tape transporting mechanism, part of a large computing machine.

Reinhardt was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Reinhardt of 63 Liberty Street, Kingston. He attended St. Joseph's and graduated from Kingston High School in 1948. He served four years in the U. S. Navy and joined IBM in Poughkeepsie five years ago.

Surrogate Grady approved the three-page document which will be a settlement of causes of action and all claims against IBM, and Acme Electric Corp., manufacturer of the machine involved in the mishap. The settlement, the document states will be in addition to any payments Mrs. Reinhardt receives under the Workmen's Compensation law and pursuant to the IBM Group Life Insurance plan.

Legal fees of $3,600 for Mrs. Reinhardt's attorney, Herbert J. Davis were also approved by Surrogate Grady.

Wife is Administrator

Letters of administration were issued by the surrogate to Mrs. Reinhardt, administratrix of her husband's estate on Sept. 15. A final judicial accounting will not be made until after the seven months have elapsed.

Mrs. Reinhart is the former Gloria Brower of Poughkeepsie. There are no children. Surviving besides his parents and wife are a sister, Mrs. Celine Sior of Kingston, and a brother, John in the U. S. Navy.

Cragsmoor Barn And Building Are Destroyed by Fire

A large barn and a small unoccupied structure near it on the premises of the Vista Maria Catholic Convent, Cragsmoor, burned to the ground in a fire of undetermined origin early this morning.

The property is owned by the Sisters of Mary Health of the Sick.

The "big house" occupied by the sisters themselves was untouched, being located about an eighth of a mile from the barn.

Two Residences Saved

Firemen from Cragsmoor and Walker Valley fire departments were able to save two other residential structures in the vicinity—one a dwelling occupied by a caretaker, the other a structure formerly occupied by George Inness Jr., a famous American painter.

Firemen told The Freeman that the blaze apparently got started in the barn. One theorized that the hay was a little green and may have been ignited by spontaneous combustion.

Threat to Area Homes

Lewis Miller, a volunteer with the Cragsmoor department, said the wind was bad and that blazing shingles from the barn were "floating around" in a rather sharp wind. He felt that it was "fortunate" the woods had been soaked by recent rains or the sparks may have touched off a bad forest fire, threatening other homes in the area as well.

Some of the volunteers reportedly believe the blaze may have been incendiary in origin. They call attention to the fire

Nasser Friend New Lebanese Premier

By REINHOLD G. ENSZ

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Former rebel leader Rashid Karami, a Nasser admirer who leans to neutralism in foreign affairs, is Lebanon's new premier.

He heads an eight-man Cabinet intended to restore peace to a nation in which passions still run high.

President Fuad Chehab named Karami, 37, to the premiership Wednesday night after using troops and tanks to halt an outburst of civil warfare between Christians and Moslems that left 19 dead.

Karami takes over the job vacated by Sami Solh, a pro-Western Moslem who was twice the target of assassins during the 4½-month revolt in this half Moslem, half Christian land against the administration of President Camille Chamoun.

Solh is now in Turkey. Chamoun has retired to his summer home at a Christian village near Beirut.

Wants Troops Out

Like Chehab, Karami wants the remaining 9,500 American troops based in Lebanon to get out. He has suggested Oct. 15 for the final withdrawal.

The dark, slightly built Karami, a Moslem, told a news conference recently he favors federation of Lebanon with President Nasser's United Arab Republic—"if all Lebanese agree."

Karami smiled when asked his opinion of Nasser.

"I consider him a superman," he said.

Was Premier Before

Karami was premier once before — from April to November 1955.

He led the rebellion in Tripoli, in north Lebanon, where he has a big following. Nevertheless, he is considered a moderate.

Within the Cabinet, Karami kept for himself the defense and interior ministries. This gives him control of Lebanon's armed forces and police.

The other jobs went to three deputies who spearheaded the fight in Parliament against Chamoun and to four men considered neutrals.

Wednesday's bloodshed developed when Moslem crowds poured out of the Basta quarter to celebrate the inauguration of Chehab, a compromise candidate who is a Christian with a Moslem background in his family.

The Phalangists, a Christian organization that backed Chamoun, fired on the crowds. The Moslems quickly mustered a fighting force and returned the fire. In addition to the dead, dozens were wounded.

Accused Paving Contractor Busy With Legal Actions

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Embattled contractor Raymond Brayer, central figure in probes of alleged graft in city paving contracts, faced legal action on three fronts today.

To Be Quizzed by Jury

He was due to appear in Federal District Court to explain why he should not be found guilty of contempt for refusing to divulge requested information about his contracting firm.

He was also under subpoena to testify today before a federal grand jury examining reports of alleged pay-offs to city officials in street paving contract awards.

And he was prepared to file a formal appeal from a contempt conviction brought against him Wednesday in State Supreme Court.

Supreme Court Justice John S. Marsh found him guilty of contempt for refusing to answer detailed questions put last week by the Erie County grand jury. These concerned $49,500 which he had said his company spent on promotion during 1955-57.

Wants More Immunity

Brayer refused to testify on the ground of possible self-incrimination. When the jury voted to grant

Callanan Tug Expected to Be Raised by Saturday or Sunday

The sunken tug, Callanan No. 1, may be raised by Saturday or Sunday, it was reported today by a spokesman for Callanan Road Improvement Co., South Rondout.

Salvage operations are now in the hands of Merritt-Chapman, Scott Corp. of New York City, largest salvage company in the world.

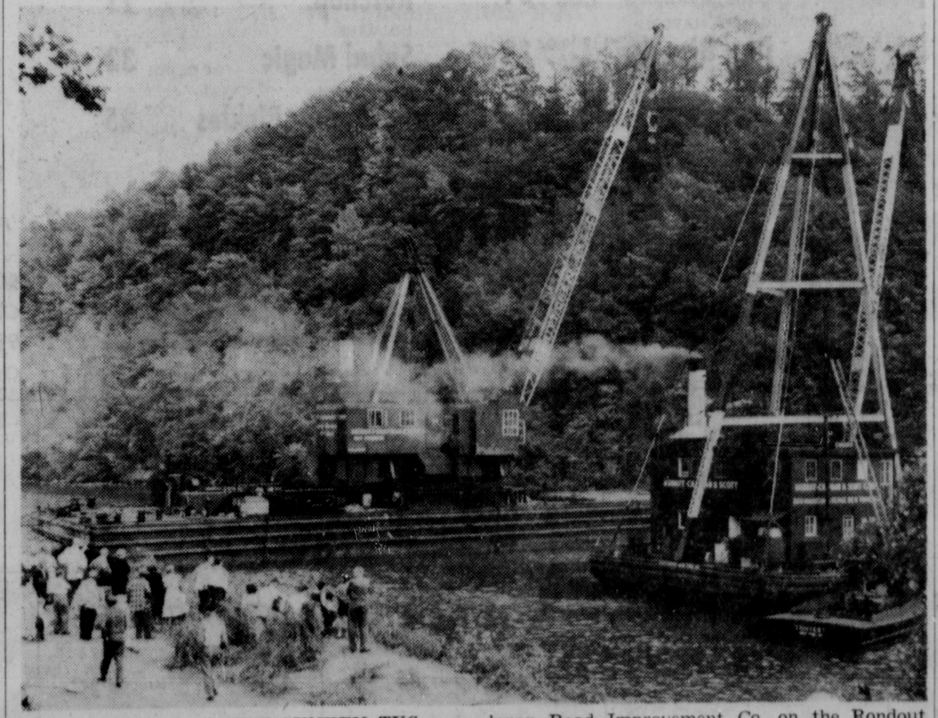

Two floating derricks arrived at the scene Wednesday morning and preparations are now under way to raise the 70-foot work vessel which sank near the Callanan loading dock almost two weeks ago.

The tug foundered and slipped under the surface of Rondout creek when a leaking barge loaded with gravel began to list and turned over, pouring stone on the deck of the tug. It went down to a sandy bottom in about 25 feet of water.

The eight-man crew escaped, although the pilot, Peter Tucker, 62, of 208 Third Avenue, was trapped temporarily in the pilothouse. The pilothouse did not sink completely below the surface, however.

Attempts to raise the tug by sealing the engine room and pumping water out through the stack proved unavailing and Callanan decided to call on the New York City salvage firm.

The tug will be lifted to the surface—"far enough to pump it out"—and then moved to drydock for repairs.

PREPARING TO RAISE SUNKEN TUG — Two giant floating derricks prepare to raise the 70-foot tug, Callanan No. 1, which sank almost two weeks ago, near the loading docks of Callanan Road Improvement Co. on the Rondout Creek. Mt. Tremper Grange Wins State Community Contest

ITHACA — Mt. Tremper Grange, serving a Catskill mountain township in Ulster County, today was proclaimed winner of the 1958 Grange Community Service contest in New York State in competition with 744 Grange units. The Grange will receive $200 in Savings bonds and represent the state in a nationwide contest for a top award of $10,000.

Two Granges, Franklinton in Schoharie County, and Mohican in Warren County, tied for second place, with Eureka Grange in Wayne County, third. The four winners, with 75 other units selected for honorable mention awards, will be honored when the State Grange conducts its 86th annual session in Saratoga Springs, Oct. 28-31.

The winners were reported by Harold A. Andrew, Trumansburg, district agency manager of the National Grange Insurance companies, Ithaca and chairman of the board of judges. He said: "Mt. Tremper has in our estimation served the greatest service to its community. These accomplishments are tremendous for the size of the Grange."

Mt. Tremper lists 73 members as one of the smallest of some 850 state Grange chapters.

Finletter Will Be Manager For Harriman and Hogan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Long-time Democrat Thomas K. Finletter returned to the thick of the state election battle today as principal adviser to Gov. Harriman and Frank S. Hogan, who beat him for the U. S. Senate nomination.

Harriman, obviously moving to ease Democratic differences touched off by Finletter's defeat, announced Wednesday night the appointment of the former Air Force secretary as head of an independent citizens committee.

Finletter will "act as principal adviser to me and to Frank Hogan," Harriman declared.

Meanwhile, Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller smiled his way into the third day of a western New York swing in his bid to oust Harriman from office.

Rockefeller planned to tour industrial plants in Jamestown, Mayville and Dunkirk. Afterwards, he was to fly to Sullivan County and then to New York City tonight.

The GOP nominee, apparently a primarily rural audience with laughing good humor and farm talk, barnstormed through five counties Wednesday. His tour ended with a torch-light parade in Jamestown Wednesday night.

Rockefeller donned a freshman "beanie" at Alfred University, solemnly accepted 50-cent

Schools Will Get Record Aid From State This Year

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — New York will pay local school districts a record $596,357,000 in basic state aid during the current school year, the Education Department estimated today.

The outlay easily will top the previous record of $508,204,218, which the state distributed during the last school year.

The aid is apportioned by formulas that consider average attendance and the ability of school districts to support their own programs. The basic aid program was expanded by 1958 laws.

The Education Department did not include in its estimate such extra payments as aid for school lunch programs, for operating libraries, for experimental programs, for summer school training of migrant workers' children or for recreation programs for the aging.

A department spokesman said the amounts of such extra aid school districts would receive could not be calculated readily.

Ike Will Visit Gotham Oct. 28 For Grid Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will visit New York City Oct. 28 to address a dinner marking the establishment of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

It may offer him an opportunity to make a political speech in behalf of Republicans seeking election in New York State.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced Eisenhower's acceptance of the football dinner invitation Wednesday.

Reporters suggested that New York also would be a convenient site for the President to make political hay.

Hagerty commented with a grin:

"Well, it's not too long before the election, but I couldn't say at this time about any political appearances."

Lou Little, former head coach at Columbia University and an old friend of Eisenhower's, extended the invitation to speak. Eisenhower once served as president of Columbia.

The Hall of Fame will be established at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J.

Offers $1,250,000 for Sampson Warehouse

GENEVA, N. Y. (AP)—A man reported to be a Batavia businessman has offered $1,250,000 for a warehouse area at the now-defunct Sampson Air Force Base.

The General Services Administration disclosed the offer Wednesday and identified the businessman as N. E. Wright, who runs dehydrated food firms in Batavia, Medina and Bath. His offer was unsolicited, the federal agency said.

However, officials of Chambers of Commerce in the three communities said they did not know Wright.

Wright is interested in an area that includes 26 warehouses and a railroad spur, the GSA said.

Canvassers Listed in 1st and 11th Wards for Chest X-ray

A canvass by volunteers who will serve in the free chest X-ray survey throughout the city was begun in the first and eleventh wards Wednesday.

Separate meetings for the volunteers were held Tuseday evening when the new TB film, "Are You Positive?" was shown.

Alderman William A. Davis, co-chairman with Supervisor Robert F. Phinney, for the 11th ward presided at that meeting. Francis O'Neil, chairman of the canvass and transportation committees, announced the assignmenst of 36 volunteers.

Canvassers Key to Success

The coordinator of the survey, Miss Hazel M. Steed, RN, of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, congratulated O'Neil on the large number of volunteers and said the key to success of the survey lies with the canvassers.

Following are the 11th ward residents who began their calls Wednesday to invite all residents over 15 years of age to have a chest X-ray when the unit is set up at the Home for the Aged, Washington Avenue, on Tuesday, Oct. 7:

Mrs. Henry Oppenheimer, Mrs. Francis Stauble, Mrs. Harry Seitz, Mrs. Joseph Corsiglia, Mrs. John Valentine, Mrs. Helen Mann, Mrs. Howard D. Bryant, Mr. Donald Hyatt, Mrs. George Duffner, Mrs. Joseph Saccoman, Mrs. Walter Tremper, Mrs. Edwin Kittle, Mrs. Giles, Mrs. Chas. Diamond, Mrs. Vincent Brooks, Mrs. Sam Feldman, Mrs. Harry Bellswinger, Mrs. John Glennon, Mrs. Wm. Scully, Mrs. Gerald Conrad, Mrs. Ross Hansen, Mrs. Helen Dittus, Mrs. Thomas Miller, Mrs. Paul Zucca, Mrs. Wm. Davis, Mrs. Emerson Mayes, Mrs. James Merritt, Mrs. Jacob Myers, Mrs. Harry Relyea, Mrs. Walter Donnaruma, Mrs. Mary Lowe, Mrs. Joseph Mautner, Mrs. Edmund Zoller, Mr. Wm. E. Davis, Mrs. Jacob Berinato, Mrs. Arlene Corrado.

YMCA to Help

It was announced that members of the YMCA Club and their leader, Frank Rebollo volunteered to distribute informational fliers to all eleventh ward homes this week. Other volunteers are being enlisted to serve as registrars and hostesses by the chairman of this committee, Mrs. Samuel Astalos Jr.

Miss Katherine M. Murphy, RN, former executive secretary, discussed with first ward volunteers the importance of the free survey at the TB and Health Association headquarters, 74 John Street.

Miss Murphy noted steady progress has been made in the fight to control tuberculosis, but it is still a major health problem.

First Ward Volunteers

Mrs. Cella Silverman, Mrs. Wm. Grothkopp, Mrs. H. Hofman, Mrs. Donna Black, Mrs. Rosaline Nason, Miss Eleanor Easton, Mrs. Bonnie Plough, Mrs. Boyd Williams, Mrs. Frances Morse, Mrs. Marguerite Grefe, Mrs. Anthony T. Pagliaro. Serving as co-chairmen for arrangements on Ward one are James A. Rapp and Hirschell Mayes. Mr. Rapp has also taken care of posters a flier distribution. Plans for transportation service during visit of the Unit will be handled by Alderman Mayes. Registrars for the two days scheduled on Wall Street have been recruited through several organizations. They are: Mrs. Katherine A. Schleede, Mrs. Herbert C. Foster, Mrs. Ralph Post, Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. Claire Shaeffer, Mrs. W. Dale Swartzmiller, Mrs. John Garon, Mrs. Warren Smith, Miss Margaret Bowen.

The sponsors of the free chest X-ray survey are the New York State Department of Health, the Ulster County Department of Health and the Ulster County TB and Health Association. In the meetings of volunteers in each ward the responsibility assumed by each was outlined. The New York State Department of Health provides the mobile units, and technicians and specialists, read the film.

The local Department of Health in close cooperation with the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital does the follow-up after findings are reported. The Ulster County TB and Health Association provides the staff to serve as coordinators of the project, carries on an informational and educational campaign and aids in the organization of volunteers. In Tuesday's meetings Mrs. Marion Ostrander and Mrs. Margery Scherer, staff members in the Ulster County Department of Health Nursing Services, reviewed the public health nurses' work in the X-ray survey and the follow-up.

It was explained too that reports of any abnormality of a film is a confidental report and goes only to the persons' private physician. The nurses' roll is to aid the physician and urge the individual who receives a request to have a larger film for further study, to do so promptly.

Matter of FACT

The first nursery school, as distinguished from day nurseries, was established in London in 1909. It aimed to provide, for a part of the day, guidance, intelligent care and healthy, happy surroundings for the young children in a poverty-stricken area. In the United States, the pioneer nursery schools were established in the decade from 1915 to 1925.

FLYING ROAD MAP—A new electronic navigation aid, built by Bendix-Decca and now being tested in the New York area, may help solve the traffic problem on congested airways and also be a boon to pilots in poor visibility conditions. In the system, a pictorial map, shown above mounted in a helicopter, unreels during flight while an automatic stylus keeps constant track of the aircraft's position. In this case, the stylus (left center on map) shows the helicopter to be hovering over the East River, opposite the lower end of Manhattan.

Bloomingburg By Pass Opens On October 23

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A six-million-dollar section of Route 17 designed to bypass Bloomingburg will be opened Oct. 23, the State Public Works Department announced today.

Gov. Harriman will attend the ceremony.

The Bloomingburg Bypass is the second major section of Route 17 to be completed this year. The Liberty Bypass, also costing six million dollars, was opened July 25

When the Bloomingburg section is ready, all of Route 17 will have been reconstructed from Harriman to north of Liberty, except for bypasses at Ferndale-Monticello. These now are under contract, the department said.

The Bloomingburg Bypass begins at Fair Oaks in Orange County and extends 6.63 miles to the east and north of Bloomingburg on a new site. It rejoins Route 17 at the top of Wurtsboro Hill in Sullivan County.

The project also includes 4.44 miles of access roads and six bridges.

'Dry Ice'

Liquid carbon dioxide can be frozen and used like ice to keep things cold. It is called "dry ice" because it does not melt to a liquid but turns directly into a gas.

MESSAGE OF THE LEAVES

Lately, you could still feel the heat of summer on the weekend. Tired of mowing the lawn, old boy? Well, go sit under a tree for a while. Not many more times this season, anyway.

So, there you are, catching a little shade, maybe sipping a cool one supplied by your sympathetic spouse. It's restful, looking at all that rich greenery around you.

Then it happens. At first you don't believe it. Quietly, a leaf wafts down from above. In a moment, another, as a breeze stirs.

Disconsolately, you pick one up. Doesn't weigh much. But multiply it by a few thousand and you'll know you're lugging something. And that, of course, is exactly what you'll be doing in a fortnight or so.

Somehow it wouldn't seem so bad if the seasons for these compulsory outdoor sports didn't overlap as they do. But you can't even get a breather.

No wonder more and more men are fudging a little to lengthen their "winter" hibernating time. If the burdens keep mounting, the stretch-out is sure to go on. Don't let that sun fool you, men: It's much too cold to work!

NEW CAR TIME AGAIN

For some years, the advent of the new model automobiles has been a sure sign of autumn. That time is at hand again. Once more we are witnessing the social phenomenon of looking 'em over.

The spectacle is one to warm an auto dealer's heart. Yet one may have mixed feelings, observing this annual phenomenon. The sight of adults crowding into the showrooms is reminiscent of the toy department before Christmas.

Sociologists and market research people have been trying for a long time to find out just what there is about the annual new car showing that so attracts the populace. Surveys seem to indicate that auto buyers want—or at least say they want—simplicity of design and decoration but accuse their neighbors of hankering after the fancier models. Apparently on the theory that neighbors are in the majority, Detroit continues to turn out new cars with more and more dazzle and shiny trim.

This does not please everyone, but the public goes right on buying briskly. And when all's said, most of us would be lost without our cars, over-fancy or not.

The way things are these days, the Joneses find it difficult to keep up with themselves.

Motto for those trying to "shoot" the moon: If at first you don't succeed, try, try again—but only at 28-day intervals, please.

WELL-READ PRESIDENT

The public image of a man of prominence often is far out of focus. Notions about him take hold, and soon have the force of legend.

Of President Eisenhower it is nowadays frequently said that he is a man who has quite modest intellectual attainments and who limits his reading largely to detective stories and Westerns.

But a former speech writer and special aide to the President, Arthur Larson, sharply questions the accuracy of this image.

Interviewed on ABC-TV by Mike Wallace, Larson said Mr. Eisenhower does his share of "profound reading" and shows familiarity with history, biography, philosophy and literature. He described the President as an "accomplished Lincoln scholar."

He also said it might be a good idea for doubters to read Mr. Eisenhower's book, "Crusade in Europe," which he appraised as detailed, interesting and very thoughtful in its concluding pages.

Naturally, Larson's is not the final word. Historians will set that down when they have access to the views of many who have known the President closely. But certainly Larson has indicated that glib labeling is a bad and possibly quite misleading practice.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

IT IS TO LAUGH

Last July, the Democrats were a sure thing in New York State. No professional politician of either party calculated that the Republicans had any chance whatsoever. The delay in Nelson Rockefeller's steam-roller campaign for the nomination, engineered, it is said, by the eminent public relations counsel, Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, was due to the uncertainties of election.

Then the Democrats got to fighting. It is a real, old-fashioned Kilkenny battle of the kind that has not been seen hereabouts in many years. The fight started over the nomination of James Farley for United States Senator. This was thumbs down by Governor Averell Harriman whose No! brooked no discussion whatsoever. The reason was crystal clear to everyone in this vicinity, namely, that Farley would undoubtedly get more votes than Harriman which would not look good; also, that if Farley were elected United States Senator, he would be the Number One Democrat in New York State and that would be tough on Governor Harriman, Mayor Wagner and even Carmine DeSapio, although the latter did not give this much consideration.

Out of this the quarrel grew for the Governor, whose tendencies are Old New Dealish, figured that if he associated himself with the Liberal Party, he could free himself from the straitjacket of the Democratic organization. He therefore began to beat the drums for Thomas K. Finletter, a former Secretary of the Air Force and an idol of the Liberal Party. Carmine DeSapio, the Democratic leader of New York City, advocated Frank Hogan, who has been elected for five terms as a bi-partisan District Attorney in New York County and who is a Democrat. DeSapio slapped Governor Harriman across the knuckles and put Hogan over as candidate for United States Senator at the party convention.

Immediately, the Governor's entourage cried, "Tammany control!" and instead of campaigning against the Republican candidate for Governor, Nelson Rockefeller, they campaigned against Carmine DeSapio who, as leader of Tammany Hall, rescued Averell Harriman in 1954 from oblivion and against all advice had Harriman elected by a small vote.

It is this small vote, 11,000, which is the crux of the problem for Harriman. He calculates that if the Liberal Party, which produced about 264,000 votes in the 1954 Gubernatorial election, had not supported him, he would have been defeated by simple arithmetic. There can be no question but that the calculation was then correct and is now correct.

Therefore to appease the Liberal Party, which is a conglomeration of Socialists and New Dealers and opportunists but has proved to control bloc voting in Dave Dubinsky's International Ladies Garment Workers Union and in other unions, Governor Harriman announced prematurely and altogether out of turn, that in the event that Frank Hogan is elected United States Senator, he will appoint next January, Frank Adams, once New York City Police Commissioner and Finletter's campaign manager, as District Atttorney in New York County. Of course, Adams woulud have to be elected the following November which is politically impossible. Therefore, it is a futile gesture designed to make the Liberals happy.

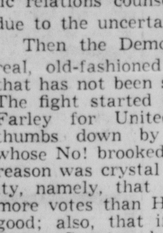

It made the usual Democrats very unhappy. Throughout the rank and file one could hear rumors that Democrats will vote for Hogan but not for Harriman, because they are not going to let their party be taken over by a bunch of Socialists which is what the Liberal Party truly is.

So there is a fight on and while wise men are trying to assuage all the parties concerned, the truth is that neither Governor Averell Harriman nor candidate Nelson Rockefeller is waging any kind of campaign. What they say sounds like a locker room conversation in the Rocquet and Tennis Club or a round-table discussion in the "29" Club where rich men talk to each other and believe that they are listening to the world.

Never has a political campaign in New York known such good manners and such urbanity. It is very gentle, indeed. And if it continues to be as gentle and as soft, many of the voters may stay home altogether because if the parties at issue do not care, why should anybody else?

Meanwhile the Republicans are discovering that the reason that rich men are rich is that they hold on to their money. They had expected to roll in money when they got Nelson Rockefeller as a candidate but they really have less than usual.

Worst Danger in Rheumatic Fever Is Damage to Heart

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

On several previous occasions I have pointeed out that rheumatic fever in children is not only serious and disabling at the time the disease is acute, but even more important, it is frequently the cause of serious heart disease. It is not confined just to children, but it is more frequent in them and in young adults than it is in later years.

There are still a good many gaps in our knowledge. For example, it seems to be an established fact that rheumatic fever is most frequent in people in the lowest income brackets.

Whether this is related to housing, to diet, or some other factor is still rather obscure.

Nevertheless, a good deal of progress in prevention and treatment of rheumatic fever has been made as a result of research work, much of which has been supported by voluntary organizations like The American Heart Association and The American Rheumatism Association.

Rheumatic fever is a disease which may involve almost any part of the body but shows a particular liking for the joints, heart and blood vessels.

Although the exact cause remains unknown, an attack of rheumatic fever usually follows an infection with a germ known as the streptococcus. Tonsillitis, streptococcal sore throat and scarlet fever are among these streptococcal diseases which are so often followed, usually in two to four weeks, by rheumatic fever.

Rheumatic fever itself is not contagious, but the streptococcal infections, or at least some of them, like sore throat, are. For this reason many attacks of rheumatic fever can be prevented by attacking the streptococcal infections.

Needless to say, this must be carried out with particular vigor on those who have had one attack of rheumatic fever. Although a person may escape heart damage from the first attack, repeated bouts with the disease are more likely to injure the heart or other organs.

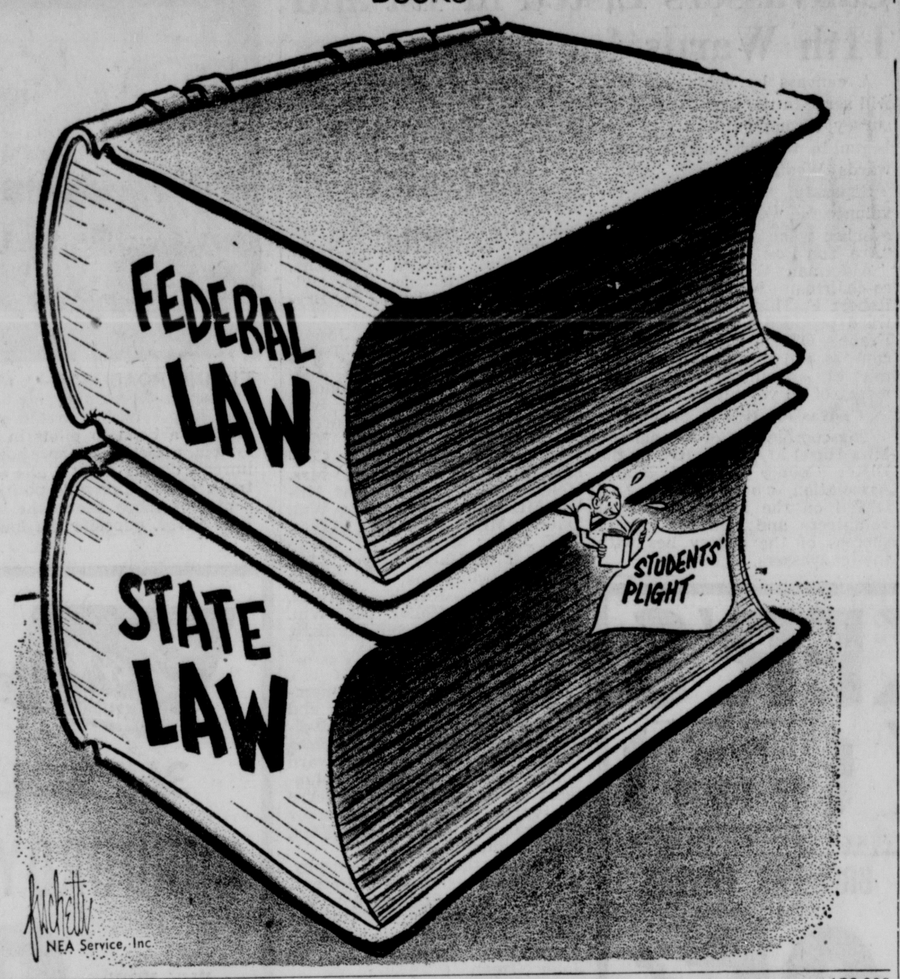

In the attack on the "strep" infections, penicillin and other antibiotics have proved exceedingly effective.

There are now long lasting penicillin preparations which can be given with a considerable degree of success and which reduce the number of streptococcal infections in the whole community.

Some time ago a check list for parents was prepared to alert them to the possible presence of "strep" infections which might foreshadow the appearance of rheumatic fever.

The seven questions are: Did sore throat come on suddenly? Does the youngster complain that his throat hurts most when he swallows? Does it hurt below the angle of the jaw when you press there gently? Are the glands swollen? Does the youngster have a fever? Does the child complain of headache? Is the youngster nauseated and has he vomited? Finally, has the child been in contact with anyone who has had scarlet fever or a sore throat?

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There were a lot of "don't do that" warnings to Republican headquarters here when GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn set out to address the Republican state convention at Little Rock, Ark.

It was the day the U. S. Supreme Court was scheduled to hand down its decision on Little Rock's appeal for a delay in school integration. There was concern that a decision denying delay would react unfavorably on southern Republicans. Political experts feared that the Eisenhower administration in Washington would be blamed for it.

But Chairman Alcorn decided to see it through. He had made the date several months ago, before it was known there would be a new showdown on school closing. Arkansas state Republican leaders had no idea of canceling or postponing their convention.

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE Republicans in Little Rock that day got no national coverage. It was buried by the bigger story. But GOP headquarters here is pretty happy about the result, as a demonstration of what can be done when Republicans get in there and pitch.

The Supreme Court decision was made public just half an hour before Alcorn was scheduled to speak. So when he was introduced, he laid aside the text of his prepared remarks and talked for a little off his cuff.

There were two reasons why he had deliberately decided to come to Little Rock on this day, he began.

The first reason was that Republicans were convinced there was going to be a two-party system in the South, and, "We're going to do everything we can to help it get bigger."

The second reason he said he came was because he wanted the Arkansas state convention to know how much the national committee appreciated the fact that all southern Republicans had stood by the principles of the party.

THIS OPENER BROUGHT Alcorn a round of heavy applause from the 350 delegates and others in attendance. The chairman then went in to his prepared speech, castigating the Democrats and handing out the Republican party line.

When Alcorn concluded, Harry Pollack, the GOP finance chairman for Arkansas rose to make the response. Pollack asked for a roll call of counties so they could express themselves in what had been said by Chairman Alcorn.

Three hours later Pollack handed Lee Potter, in charge of the southern states' campaign at GOP headquarters, a check for $4,000. This was the Arkansas contribution to the Republican National Finance Committee's drive for campaign funds. It practically filled the state's quota.

The Little Rock experience isn't being taken here as a sign there's going to be any upset in Arkansas this year. Nobody's kidding himself on that.

THE REPUBLICANS DO HAVE a candidate for governor on the ticket this year. He is George W. Johnson of Greenwood, running steep uphill against Gov. Orval Faubus in his bid for re-election.

The Republicans have no candidates for Congress this year. In 1956 they ran one candidate against the then five-term veteran Democrat James William Trimble, in the third district of northwest Arkansas. Trimble won, 54,000 to 34,000.

In the Arkansas presidential vote, Eisenhower got 186,000 votes to 213,000 for Stevenson in 1956. This was a 9,000-vote gain for the Republicans over 1952, when Eisenhower got 177,000 to 226,000 for Stevenson.

But Democratic Sen. J. William Fullbright, running for relection in 1956, got 331,000 to opponent Ben Henley's 68,000. That gives a truer picture of prevailing political sentiment in Arkansas. And it indicates the size of the margin Republicans will have to overcome before they can make any headway in there.

So They Say..

I have hopes that this (racial) trouble will pass on soon for I cannot believe England will allow a thing like this to go on. It is dreadful.
—Jamaican Chief Minister Norman Manley, in London to investigate that city's race riots.

* * *

The French nation will blossom or perish depending on whether the state will or will not have enough strength, firmness or prestige to lead it where it must go.
—Premier Charles de Gaulle, explaining his new constitution.

* * *

The President seems to have more on his mind. He doesn't seem to be concentrating on the game as well as last year. He's missing too many short putts where concentration counts a great deal.
—Golf pro Norman Palmer, describing President Eisenhower's game at Newport (R.I.) Country Club.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Ten years ago — before the "integration" problem had become as acute as it is today—this correspondent had an interesting discussion about the question with the principal of a high school in a large city in the North.

"How is the mixing of races in the school working out?" I asked him.

"Fine," he replied.

"Do the colored girls dance with white boys in social functions after school?"

"No," he said, "they stay apart and for the most part keep to themselves in separate groups socially."

"Is there any friction in the classrooms?"

"No."

"Then you do not have any trouble?"

"Well, I wouldn't say that. If, for instance, we award a prize and there is any suspicion that we have discriminated against the colored pupil, we will hear from it."

Gallup Figures Considered

"Then, on the whole, it is working out all right?"

"Yes, but you see we have only one-third colored to two-thirds white." He paused and then added:

"I'll tell you frankly I wouldn't want to be principal of this same high school if it were two-thirds colored and one-third white."

The principal didn't elaborate. This writer couldn't help thinking today of that conversation upon reading the results of a poll taken in the last few weeks in the North as well as in the South by Dr. George Gallup of the American Institute of Public Opinion. It showed differing answers dependent on the proportion of colored pupils to be enrolled in a public school. Thus, when the inquiry was whether the person interviewed would have any objection to sending his or her children to a public school where "a few of the children are colored," the answer in the North was that 86 per cent would not object. When the question asked of the same people was whether there would be objection if half the children were colored, the objecting figure rose to 39 per cent. When the third question was asked—whether there would be objection if more than half were colored — the objecting percentage in the North rose to 58 per cent, while 6 per cent expressed no opinion. This is a clear majority against such integration.

'Lower Standard' Angle

Naturally, in the South the percentages of objectors went from 72 to 81 to 84, respectively, in answering the same three questions. For in many parts of the South the colored children already outnumber the white by a considerable margin, and there seems no doubt that, if "integration" were strictly enforced, there would be many schools with a predominance of colored pupils.

It is significant that the Gallup pollsters reported that "in explaining objections to integration, many persons added that it was not so much a racial matter but a fear the educational standard of their school would be lowered."

There is already evidence that, in some heavily integrated schools in the North, the educational standards have lagged. This is explained by some educators as due to the lack of educational background of the colored parents and their long residence in a low-income environment. There seems to be no evidence as yet as to how many years it will take to overcome this handicap.

It would not be surprising, therefore, to see a court case some day in which the words of the Supreme Court of the United States will be turned back on the justices who, in the 1954 decision, ruled that "segregation of children in the public schools solely on the basis of race, even though the physical facilities and other 'tangible' factors may be equal, deprive the children of the minority group of equal educational opportunities."

New Minority—White?

The argument may well be heard that the discrimination in a preponderantly Negro school is against the new minority—the white children — who are deprived of the high standards of education they once enjoyed.

The Supreme Court's decision, literally interpreted, means that, even though there are not enough Negro children in a school district to equalize the proportions, something must be done — by transfers and by the city's payment of bus fares—to obtain "equal educational opportunities for every Negro child. This course is being advocated by Negro groups in New York City.

Money Angle Involved

The court's decision approved a finding that segregation has a tendency "to retard the educational and mental development of Negro children." This plainly puts upon the Federal courts the responsibility of being concerned some day about the retardation of the "educational and mental development" of white children, too. Long before there is a fifty-fifty "integration," the parents of white children will be demanding from the "Supreme School Board" in Washington "equal" benefits so that the white children may obtain as good an education as they were getting in the same schools before the 1954 decision was proclaimed as "the law of the land."

These issues may seem only academic to the wealthy parents who can afford to send their children to private schools or to public schools in neighborhoods where there is virtually no colored population. Will the 14th Amendment someday, however, be construed to mean that wealth must be redistributed so that it will be "equal?" Does it create a "sense of inferiority" not to have as much money as some one else, especially where education for one's children is involved?

Plainly there are still some big gaps in the doctrine of "equal protection of the law"—if "intangible" factors are as important as they seem to be regarded by the Supreme Court.

Court Ruling Is Asked on Leasing Arkansas Schools

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Little Rock School Board and the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People sought a ruling in federal court today on a plan to keep the schools segregated by leasing them to a private corporation.

Several Southern states with private school plans they hope will thwart federal court orders to integrate watched the Arkansas test with keen interest.

Pleas on petitions by the board and by the NAACP were slated to be heard by U.S. Dist. Judge John E. Miller at Fort Smith.

Would Restrain Board

The NAACP asked Miller to restrain the board from leasing the school properties. The petition also asked that if private schools are opened they be required to admit Negro students under the integrated plan previously in effect at Central High.

The School Board has asked the court whether it may lease its buildings without being held in contempt.

Negro and white students fought Wednesday in Little Rock and on Chicago's South Side. At Norfolk, Va., students demonstrated quietly in an effort to get a high school opened.

Six Face Closure

Six Norfolk schools with 10,000 pupils face closure by Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. under Virginia's massive resistance laws if a final order to integrate comes. Their opening has been delayed pending court action. Already closed are schools at Front Royal and Charlottesville.

Private classes began at Charlottesville, where pupils of the Venable Elementary School carried their own chairs into basements and playrooms of residences for instruction. A committee was set up to start similar teaching of the ousted high school students.

Citizens of the Front Royal community are planning to organize private instruction for their 1,000 idle pupils in Warren County.

Fight Is Reported

Fifteen Negroes and six white youths fought near a Little Rock junior high school. Three white youths were injured. Witnesses said the Negroes hit the white boys with cleated athletic shoes and kicked one when he fell.

The fight in Chicago brought minor injuries to one white and one Negro boy. It was apparently the aftermath of an argument between a white girl and a Negro girl, police reported.

At Atlanta, two federal judges promised an early hearing on a suit by 28 Negroes to end segregation in the public schools.

SOLITARY CONFINEMENT—Designed to relieve the 95-million-dollar dairy industry headache of dying calves, this "Calfloo" is put into operation at the Nutrena Mills research farm in Minneapolis, Minn. The structure segregates the calf during his crucial, early period of life from disease and other bovine problems.

Presbyterians Ask Action

Church Leaders Protest Sunday Political Events

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—Presbyterian leaders of Westchester County are protesting against the increasing number of political events being held on Sunday.

Members of the Westchester Presbytery says more clambakes, picnics, street-corner meetings and neighborhood rallies have been held on Sunday in the current election campaign than in past campaigns.

Asks Clerks to Act

The presbutery, comprising ministers and elders of 35 churches in the county, adopted a resolution of protest at a closed meeting on Tuesday. A copy of the resolution was sent Wednesday to the social education and action committee of the state synod of the church.

The resolution calls on each minister to negotiate with local political leaders in an effort to eliminate Sunday politics.

The presbytery members charged "offenses against the Sabbath" in Westchester County by Gov. Harriman, Democratic candidate for reelection, and Nelson A. Rockefeller, his Republican opponent, as well as other candidates.

William F. Luddy, chairman of the Westchester County Democratic Committee, said of the resolution:

Defends Rallies

"If a person goes to church on Sunday morning, there is no reason why he should not attend a political rally in the afternoon.

"He would be performing the Lord's work by learning something about his government and helping to get better officials and make better citizens."

Edwin G. Michaelian, Republican county chairman and county executive, was out of town but a high county leader politically close to him said:

"I agree with the presbytery that political meetings should not be held on Sunday, but not for the same reason.

"Politics on Sunday can be just as clean and worthy as church meetings. But it is not fair to the candidates to work them seven days a week and not let them relax with their families on Sundays."

Cutting, Broker, Takes Own Life

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Fulton Cutting II, 38-year-old socialite and Wall Street broker, shot himself to death Wednesday in his family's eight-story town house just off Fifth Avenue.

Cutting's body was found in the basement laundry of his home by a friend, Letitia Ambrose. Miss Ambrose had been on another floor and did not hear the shot. But she knew Cutting had an appointment with his psychiatrist and went looking for him to remind him of it.

Cutting, using an Army-type .45 caliber revolver, had shot himself once in the chest. An unaddressed note neatly printed on a shirt cardboard told of gratitude to his parents and regret that he could not go on living.

Miss Ambrose told authorities Cutting had feared his psychiatrist might recommend that he go to an institution for treatment.

Cutting was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Cutting, who were in Southampton on Long Island at the time.

State Will Probe Professionals at Fair Bingo Games

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The State Lottery Commission will look into reports that professionals operated bingo games at several local fairs this summer.

Bingo run by professionals is illegal under the state constitutional amendment that allows the game on a local-option basis.

Commission Chairman Richards W. Hannah said Wednesday he would undertake the probe.

However, Hannah pointed out, licensing of games and enforcement of regulations is the responsibility of the municipalities involved.

He said the commission had agreed that, where bingo had been approved locally, fairs could operate games with their own workers if the men were not paid.

Hannah said he planned to ask the 1959 Legislature to clarify a section that permits the games to be conducted by religious, charitable or non-profit organizations of veterans, volunteer firemen and similar groups.

That word "similar" puzzled him, Hannah said.

Three Face Murder In Fatal Beating

NEW YORK (AP) — Three Brooklyn men have been charged with murder following the death of a man whom they allegedly beat up last Saturday.

Martin Murphy, and Thomas McCaffrey, both 21, were assaulted after refusing to join a gang. The pair were beaten into unconsciousness. Murphy died Wednesday in Kings County Hospital.

Police said the victims belonged to no gang.

Charged with murder after Murphy died were John Doherty, 22, an ex-convict; Daniel J. Donovan Jr., 26, and Victor Castellano, 21.

Queen Mary Tudor, "Bloody Mary," had 277 persons burned at the stake in England between 1553 and 1558.

Why We Say--

DUELING MATCH: When we say that someone is a "stickler" for accuracy today we seldom think of dueling matches. But a stickler was a second in a dueling match. He was on hand to see that the contest was carried out according to the rules. The "stickler" carried a white stick as an emblem of his office.

Answers Rebuff By Shooting Two, Takes Own Life

NEW YORK (AP)—A married man, rebuffed by a woman friend, Wednesday night shot the woman and her 21-year-old son, then put a fatal bullet in his own head.

Dead was Harry Chalmers, 48, a guard for Wells Fargo and Co.

Shot once in the chest was Raymond Duffy, the son. He was in critical condition at Jewish Memorial Hospital. In poor condition was his mother. Mrs. Evelyn Duffy, 42, a widow for many years.

A patrolman arriving at the Washington Heights apartment where the shootings took place said Chalmers told him before he died, "I shot them because she was going to break off with me."

Dishes, linens and other household goods in the three - room apartment were packed i boxes for moving. Mrs. Duffy and her son were getting ready to move into an apartment in Hudson Heights, N. J.

Police quoted Mrs. Duffy as saying, "I moved to get away from him. He was jealous of my son." The woman said she had known Chalmers for the past five years.

Chalmers lived in Manhattan with his wife, Margaret, and their two daughters, Jean, 19 and Nancy, 20.

When Mrs. Chalmers was informed of her husbad's death and told of Mrs. Duffy, she replied, "I've heard of her."

Ave Proclaims Days For Press, Carriers

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The week of Oct. 1-8 is "Newspaper Week" and Oct. 4 "Newspaper Boy Day" in New York State.

Gov. Harriman signed the proclamation Wednesday and praised what he called "the ceaseless vigilance of the reporters of our free press." Newspaper advertising helped stimulate the nation's economy, he added.

Ten carriers of newspapers in Troy, Schenectady and Albany attended the ceremony in the Executive Chamber of the State Capitol.

The governor described newspaper boys as "junior merchants who perform a valuable service and learn the ways of business" by passing papers.

State GI Faces Life in Prison After Guilty Plea

BAY MINETTE, Ala. (AP)—Army Private Henry Queor of Winthrop, N. Y., faced a life in prison today after pleading guilty to first-degree murder in the beating of a nurse.

Attorneys for the 25-year-old soldier entered the guilty plea Wednesday at the start of his trial. They said Queor requested the move.

Circuit Judge Hubert M. Hall directed that the jury return a verdict of life imprisonment. It did.

Hall, in passing sentence, recommended that Queor never be granted parole. In Alabama, life termers usually are eligible for parole after 10 years.

Queor could have received the death penalty.

He still must stand trial Thursday on a charge of escape from the Baldwin County Jail. Queor slipped out April 24 but was caught an hour later when bloodhounds flushed him from bushes about two blocks away.

The maximum sentence on this charge is a year in jail.

Queor was arrested last March 19 in the slaying of Mrs. Pauline Penny, 40, a practical nurse who lived in Norfolk, Va. Her battered body had been found in a roadside park 11 days earlier.

The FBI traced Queor to his base at the Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland through his and Mrs. Penny's automobiles.

Police said Queor admitted beating Mrs. Penny after she hit him with a whisky bottle during an argument. Queor was given a ride by Mrs. Penny after his car broke down near Chiefland, Fla.

Polish Fencing Champ Hides Out, Would Stay Here

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A champion fencer from Poland is hidden today in a secluded cottage outside Buffalo, waiting to apply for admission to the United States as a political refugee.

Behind him in Poland is his 28-year-old wife. He hopes to bring her to America someday—perhaps with the aid of the U. S. government.

The dramatic story of Jerzy Twardokens, 27, was told in a copyrighted article in this morning's editions of the Buffalo Courier-Express.

Twardokens came to Buffalo Sept. 15 with an exhibition team from Poland. He was befriended here by a local Polish-American to whom he divulged his desire to stay.

Sees Difference

"I don't like living in a country where the Russians are bosses," he said. He added that in Poland the U. S. was pictured as poverty-ridden and ruled by powerful bankers.

"But when I got here, I saw it was different. I realized they were lying and I had to stay," he said.

His team left Montreal Wednesday for Poland, after completing a tour of the U.S. and Canada. In Philadelphia last August, Twardokens placed third in the World Fencing Championships.

While the team was in Buffalo, Twardokens persuaded his captain to let him stay for some special exhibition while the team went to Toronto.

Later, the team was told he had left Buffalo to drive to Montreal with friends. It was told he would rejoin the squad there in time to sail Wednesday on the liner Batory.

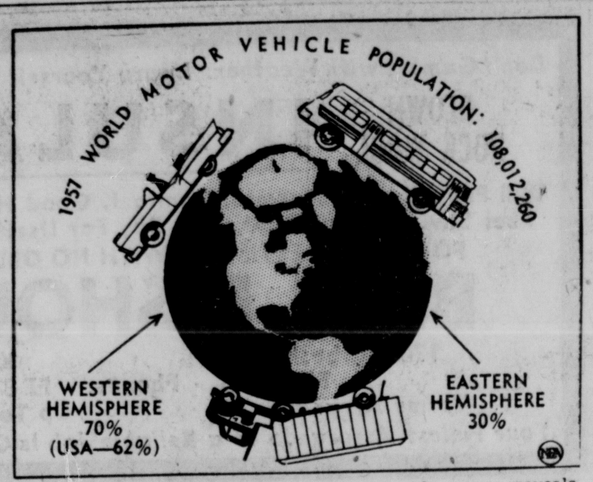

He never arrived.

Hiding Till Tuesday

He has already reported to the Immigration and Naturalization Service office here and a formal hearing has been scheduled for next Tuesday. Until then, he will remain in hiding.

The slim, blond fencer has won four Polish national championships and was on his country's last Olympic team.

He said he was sad at leaving his wife but added, "I don't think Poland would stand in the way of happiness for a young married couple."

MOTORIZED BIRTH RATE—A world-wide survey reveals a steady increase in the motor vehicle population, reports the U.S. Department of Commerce. The survey, by the Business and Defense Services Administration, attributes the increase to higher living standards. World registration totaled over 108 million as of last January 1, up 5.6 per cent during 1957. Increases, particularly in passenger cars, are expected to continue.

198 Die in State Traffic Mishaps During August

One hundred and ninety-eight persons were killed in 155 fatal auto accidents in New York State during August, 12 less than during the same month in 1957, but the total for the first eight months of 1958 is still ahead of last year's toll for the same period.

These figures were released in a report by Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly today. The report shows 1,353 people killed so far this year against 1,347 for the eight months of last year. In the corresponding periods, there were 1,211 fatal accidents this year against 1,219 last year.

Included among the fatalities were 48 pedestrians in August of 1958 against 50 in August of 1957, a four per cent decrease. Pedestrian deaths of 507 to date against 477 of 1957 represent a six per cent increase. New York City's 297 killed so far in 1958 represent a 14% increase over the 260 of last year. Rural and urban areas show a 1% and 10% decrease respectively.

Two hundred and eight drivers were involved in the August fatal accidents and were charged with 136 traffic violations.

Canal Society Will Retrace Old D & H Route on Weekend

Members of the Canal Society of New York State will retrace the route of the Delaware and Hudson Canal this weekend, a few days less than 130 years since the first through boat, the packet "Orange," left Rondout for Honesdale.

Their trip will also commemorate the 60th anniversary of the last through boat, No. 1107, which left Honesdale November 5, 1898.

Clinton to Preside

DeWitt Clinton of Buffalo, great-great-grandson of the governor who developed the state's canal policy and encouraged the private capitalists who built the D & H, is president of the Society and will preside at the annual business meeting Saturday morning at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston.

Among prominent members of the Society who can trace their ancestry back to boatmen on the D & H are Vice-President William E. Cleary of Brooklyn, grandson of the Ellenville boy who served four terms as congressman from Brooklyn, and James O'Boyle, New York marine contractor.

Immediately following lunch at the Governor Clinton a motorcade identified by the society's green flag and yellow pennants on individual cars will proceed along the D & H line through Rondout, Eddyville, Creek Locks, LeFever Falls, Rosendale, Lawrenceville, High Falls, Alligerville, Port Jackson, Kerhonkson, Wawarsing, Napanoch, Ellenville, Spring Glen, Phillipsport, Summitville, Wurtsboro, Westbrookville and Port Orange.

To Make Inspections

Stops will be made to inspect sites at or near Eddyville, Creek Locks, High Falls, Spring Glen and Phillipsport.

The group will stop Saturday night at the Park Lane Motel near Port Jervis for their annual dinner and a program on the history of the Delaware and Hudson Canal. Principal speaker will be H. F. Bartle of Eldred, assistant professor of Social Studies, State University Teachers College at Oswego. Color slides of existing structures and slides from old pictures taken when the canal was a busy artery of trade will be shown by Robert S. Rose of Fulton, a vice-president of the society.

On Sunday the group will follow the canal from Cuddebackville to Godeffroy, and in the afternoon from Port Jervis through Sparrow Bush, Bolton Basin, Hawks Nest, Mongaup, Knights Eddy, Pond Eddy, Barryville, and Minisink Ford to Lackawaxen. Members returning to central and western New York and Pennsylvania homes will continue along the D & H to the head of navigation at Honesdale.

Membership Open

Necessarily omitted from the field trip will be sections where the canal is far from roads and those which have been obliterated by railroad construction.

Anyone interested in the history of New York's canals is invited to join the Society. Headquarters is in the Historical Building, 311 Montgomery Street, Syracuse 2, New York. The secretary may be reached by phone at the Governor Clinton in Kingston Friday evening or at the Park Lane Motel, Port Jervis, on Saturday this week.

Boy Hurt, Man Is Punched From Steps

A boy was injured in a traffic mishap at Wurts and Hunter Streets yesterday afternoon and police were notified that a man was injured when someone pushed him from steps at the YMCA.

Gerald J. Long, 4, of 50 Hunter Street, suffered head injuries, police said, when he apparently walked from behind a parked car into the path of one driven by Nelson Lindsay Carter, 27, of RD 2, Box 247, Kingston. His condition was reported as "apparently fair" at Kingston Hospital today.

The boy was headed across Hunter Street, the report said. Officers Edward Edwards and Thomas Kearney investigated.

Police were notified at 9:20 p. m., that Neil DuBois, 35, of 62 Summer Street, suffered a head injury when he was pushed from the YMCA steps yesterday afternoon. His condition was reported as "apparently good" at at Kingston Hospital today. Officers Leonard Ellsworth and Leon Fitzgerald investigated. It was not indicated whether the pushing was accidental or deliberate.

2 Hearings Held On Abandoning Rail Facilities

Two hearings on discontinuance of area railroad facilities were heard by Public Service Commission examiners today at the court house.

One hearing was for the discontinuance of station facilities at the Gilboa station on the former Ulster & Delaware branch of the New York Central system and making Stamford station the control point. The other was for discontinuance of facilities at Rosendale, New Paltz, Gardiner, Wallkill and Walden stations on the Wallkill Valley branch of the Central.

Testimony was taken in both proceedings, Hearing Examiner F. L. Titus presided in the Gilboa case and Hearing Examiner Rothstein in the Wallkill Valley branch matter.

The New York Central Railroad seeks to discontinue station facilities at the Wallkill Valley stations, using Kingston as control station with a "roving" representative to handle express and freight.

A hearing was held last May in the New Paltz case and the matter was adjourned until today for additional testimony.

The railroad claims it is spending large sums of money to maintain agents at the stations and that business does not warrant this expenditure. Discontinuance would result in removal of the agent and telegrapher at the stations and the closing of them for business.

James G. Connelly appeared for the New York Central Railroad. Lloyd R. LeFever and William Curran appeared for the Rosendale residents; Peter Harp for objectors to closing the New Paltz station; Robert Hafke for objectors at Gardiner; Former Mayor Frederick Stang for Wallkill shippers and residents and G. R. Bartlett for residents of the Walden area.

Only carload shipments would be accommodated at the closed stations and the control point for this business would be Kingston. The "roving agent" would operate between Kingston and Campbell Hall.

Strenuous objection was made to closing the Rosendale station on the grounds it is used extensively as a shipping point since the Ontario & Western Railroad discontinued operations.

Testimony taken at public hearings is submitted to the Public Service Commission for its consideration and action.

Dutchman Dies at 65

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald, pictured as a high-priced fixer by witnesses in the 1953 investigation of federal tax scandals, died today.

The 65-year-old Grunewald was a figure of mystery, with a reputation as a wire puller, during the Truman administration.

He suffered a stroke Monday and had been unconscious in a hospital here since then. In the last five years he had survived five heart attacks.

In 1955, Grunewald and two others were convicted of conspiracy in a $160,000 payoff to Grunewald to kill federal tax prosecutions against two firms. They won a reversal in the Supreme Court, however, on a legal technicality. A New York jury deadlocked last July in a first retrial, and a second trial had been set for Oct. 6.

The codefendants are Daniel A. Bolich, former assistant internal revenue commissioner; and Max Halperin, a New York lawyer for two firms which were having income tax troubles in the late 1940s.

Mental Health Center Begins Enrollment for Consultation

The Ulster County Mental Health Center is now receiving applications from persons in need of care for emotional disorders, it has been announced by Dr. Edward F. Shea, chairman of the Ulster County Community Mental Health Board. The Mental Health Center is the operating arm of the Community Mental Health Board and is situated in the County Tumor Clinic, 400 Broadway.

Although the Center will provide clinic services, its function is envisioned to be considerably broader, according to its director, Dr. Maurice H. Greenhill. Its aim is not only to establish or improve facilities, he said, for the care of the emotionally and mentally ill, but also to carry out consultative and educational services throughout the county. In doing so it is following the mandate of the New York State Community Mental Health Services Act of 1954 which was designed "to encourage the development of preventive, rehabilitative and treatment services through new community mental health programs and the improvement and expansion of existing community services."

This means the gradual establishment of educational programs for both professional and lay groups, consulting services to private and public health and social agencies on mental health problems, and working relationships with the Department of Health, Department of Welfare, Board of Education, general hospitals, Police Department and other public agencies in a joint effort to attack the problem of mental illness in Ulster County.

To Consider Families

The Mental Health Center will emphasize family care as well as individual care. "Most psychiatric disturbances denote failure of inter-personal relationships in the family, and a clinic cannot properly treat one without dealing with the other," Dr. Greenhill states.

Referrals of both adults and children are expected from physicians, the school physicians, social agencies, health department and clergymen. The Mental Health Law stipulates that any citizen of the state of New York may apply for consultation. It is also important that the law stipulates that the clinic is not a free clinic but rather designed for the large number of patients to whom private psychiatric care is unavailable on an economic basis. The clinic fees would depend on the ability of each individual to pay. This aspect of the clinic must be carefully screened by the social workers. Appointments may be made by telephoning Mrs. Sheldon O'Rourke, Administrative Assistant for the Mental Health Center, at Federal 1-6340 between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. Monday through Friday. Patients are seen only by appointment.

Just Thursdays Now

The Staff of the Center will consist of Dr. Greenhill, Mrs. O'Rourke, and a psychologist and a social worker yet to be appointed. Until the staff reaches its full complement patients will be seen only on Thursday.

The Ulster County Community Mental Health Board was appointed by the County Board of Supervisors and consists of Edward F. Shea, M.D., Chairman, Hon. Louis G. Bruhn, Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, Rev. David C. Gaise, Dudley W. Hargarve, M.D., Hon. Jay LeFevre, Kenneth H. LeFever, M.D., Herbert M. Siller, and Harry D. Sutton.

The Board has an annual budget (1958-59) of $32,000 to carry out its work, half of which is contributed by the State of New York on a matching basis.

Storm Churns Toward Coast Of Carolina

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Helene churned slowly northwestward today toward the Carolina coast—some 350 miles distant — and the Weather Bureau warned shipping to stay out of its path.

The storm's highest winds were estimated at 90 miles an hour in squalls. Gale winds extended outward 200 miles to the northeast and 110 miles to the southwest.

If it continues its present course, the storm will hit the mainland at or near the coastal point where South and North Carolina meet. So far, there has been nothing to indicate any deviation from that course. But, at its present forward pace, some nine miles an hour, many hours would elapse before even the fringe winds would approach the coast.

Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster, reported that the factors which could govern Helene's future course are so evenly balanced right now that "we must simply wait and watch. Any predictions now of its future course would be pure guesswork."

The latest reports from ships showed no gale winds within 250 miles of the Carolinas.

However, the Weather Bureau said tides will increase gradually along the Carolina and Georgia coasts today and tonight.

'Jayhawker State'

Kansas acquired its nickname of "Jaywalker State" from a slang term applied to a group of antislavery men during the days when Kansas was a territory.

Set Holy Name Religious Rites At Polo Grounds

His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman, following his return to the United States after leading a pilgrimage of American Catholics to Lourdes in France, will preside at the 16th annual Holy Name religious services in the Polo Grounds, New York City on Mission Sunday, Oct. 19 at 3 p. m.

The theme of the 1958 religious services will be from "A Mission to a Missionary." In order to dramatize this theme, four persons, representing the bishop and three priests who started the diocese in 1808, will lead a procession on to the field. They will be followed by four representatives of each of the 94 religious communities in the Archdiocese of New York which now send missionaries to mission fields.

This 1958 religious service will mark the 150th year since the founding of the Diocese of New York in 1808. Under the sponsorship of the Archdiocesan Union of Holy Name Societies, this annual demonstration has been witnessed by approximately a million persons in the past 15 years.

Correct TV Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators have officially corrected testimony about the part taken by Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh in a television case.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) said his House subcommittee investigating regulatory agencies has no record of correspondence between Lawrence and Richard A. Mack, Federal Communications Commission member.

Harris told this to reporters several hours after Wednesday's hearing.

Earlier, subcommittee investigator Oliver Eastland testified the subcommittee had copies of two letters Lawrence wrote Commissioner Robert T. Bartley.

Fate of 11 Unknown

Reds Give Up Bodies Of Airmen

KARS, Turkey (AP)—The bodies of six U.S. airmen killed in a crash in Soviet Armenia Sept. 2 are back in Americans hands. The Soviets surrendered them at the Soviet-Turkish border Wednesday. The fate of 11 other crewmen remained a mystery.

The full story of the final flight of the C130 turboprop transport and the explosion and fire that destroyed it remained to be told.

The Soviets have protested that the transport "intentionally violated the Soviet border." The U.S. State Department said Soviet MIGs had jumped the plane near this provincial capital, 20 miles inside Turkey, and forced it across the border, though it did not accuse them of shooting it down.

There was no immediate identification of the six dead.

Cleric Beams Message

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—An Episcopal minister has beamed the message of God to amateur radio operators, and at least 200 of them are reading him clearly.

The Rev. Albert E. Martin, pastor of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church and a ham operator himself for 12 years, will hold a special church service and get-together for amateur operators next Sunday.

He said Wednesday that he has acceptances from 200 hams in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

The Rev. Mr. Martin went on the air earlier this week with the invitation.

50 From Local Firms Are Told About New Plant Feather Drive

Something new came to Community Chest campaigning in Kingston Wednesday night, as nearly 50 persons, representing local firms, took part in a "Keyman's Rally."

The meeting, in the auditorium at Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation's building on Broadway, was called by Richard A. Stewart, chairman of the Business and Industrial Division, to explain details for winning an honor award plaque and to distribute supplies to those firms that have already agreed to conduct a campaign for Community Chest among their employes.

Explains About Award

Highpoint of the evening was the description by Robert J. Dalton of New York Telephone Company, co-chairman with Stewart of the division, of the method for winning the Honor Plaque Award, which will be given to firms whose employes do an outstanding job for Community Chest this year.

The award, a bronze-appearing wall trophy, will be given to those employe groups which meet two minimum standards, Dalton explained. He said the groups would obtain a gift from nine out of 10 employes and achieve a goal equal to 60 per cent of the employes giving the "Fair Share" standard of an hour's pay a month for the Red Feather campaign.

General Campaign Chairman Richard M. Kalish keynoted the rally by explaining that Stewart's men took only one week to make contact with more than 150 large firms in the Kingston area, to set up the initial rally last night.

Lauds Spirit

"And that is a demonstration of the fine spirit for quick success that is being shown throughout the entire Community Chest campaign team this year," Kalish said.

Attending the meeting, in addition to campaign leaders mentioned, were:

I. James Lukehart, of Kingston Buick Co.; Roy Woycik, Old Capital Motors; Carl Schenck, Denton Cadillac - Oldsmobile; John Marmo, Montgomery Ward; Peter Knudsen, Siller Beef Co.; Lester A. Van Alstyne, Callanan Road Improvement Co.; Donald Yonta, Charles Ramsey Corp.; William D. Hawk Jr., William Rylance & Sons; Angus Doyle, Callanan Road Improvement Co.; John H. Bach, Hercules Powder Co.; David S. Howe, J. C. Penney Co.

Carter, Mae Martalto and Jeannette Nagele, all of Local 186, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America; Sally Van De Bogart, Bern-Mar and Halpern Manufacturing Co.; Alton C. Blackwell, Ulster County Savings Institution; Warren F. Smith, Smith Mail Advertising Service; R. Troeger, Pine Grove Manufacturing Co.; Robert L. Harkins, Kingston Hospital; Mario Liguori, Skyline Manufacturing Co.; James E. Johnson, Kingston Laundry; Ronald Drowns, Governor Clinton Hotel.

Bids Are Sought For Grahamsville School Addition

Bids for a 14-room elementary wing and gymnasium to the Tri-Valley Central School at Grahamsville are being sought by the board of education. The school was built in 1950.

Bids will be received by the board of education and opened at 2:30 p. m. on October 23, at the school.

There are four separate bids being sought, one for general construction; one for electrical work; one for plumbing and one for the heating and ventilating.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the architect, Harry Halverson, 239 Fair Street, Kingston, where copies may be obtained by bidders. The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids which it may deem not to be to the best interest of the school district. A deposit of $50 is required for complete set of plans and specifications.

Will Hold Survey On High School Students Plans

Plans were made at a conference last night to survey all Ulster County junior and senior high school students on their plans for education and training beyond high school.

This decision was made at a well attended conference of high school principals, guidance officials, members of the Community College Committee of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors and the Citizen's Advisory Committee.

The group met at the county court house on Wall Street and Fred H. DuBois of New Paltz, chairman of the supervisors, Community College Committee presided. The history and progress of the community college movement in Ulster County was outlined by Harry Rigby Jr., of the Citizen's Advisory Committee. All school officials present agreed to make the survey in their respective high schools.

Carolina Educators Impressed By Local Vocational Program

School officials from Camden, S. C., toured the vocational building at Kingston High School this morning and were reported particularly impressed with the vocational program.

Touring with Principal M. Clifford Miller of Kingston High School were Superintendent J. C. Walton of Camden schools and Principal F. A. Snelgrove of the high school in that South Carolina city.

They arrived in Kingston Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Rowland, formerly of Kingston, who are staying at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Visit With Kiwanis

Rowland, a former Kingston industrialist and prominent civic leader, serving a number of terms as president of the Kingston Board of Education, moved to Camden several years ago.

They were attending the Kiwanis Club luncheon early this afternoon at the hotel as guests of Dr. Earl Soper, superintendent of Kingston Public Schools.

This afternoon they will return to Kingston High School for further discussions and observation of the local plant.

Very Superior, They Think

Both Walton and Snelgrove were reported to consider the vocational program here as very superior.

Friday night the visitors will attend the KHS-Port Jervis football game at Dietz Stadium and Saturday will be Rowland's guests at the Army-University of South Carolina football game at West Point.

Visit of the Camden administrators is in part a reciprocal return of the visit made by the KHS A Cappella Choir to Camden during the Easter recess.

The choir was accompanied to Camden by Leonard Stine, director; Miss Ruth Tongue and Mrs. Virginia Norwood, chaperones; Principal and Mrs. Miller; Dr. and Mrs. Soper; Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Baltz Sr., and Harold Darling, members of the board of education.

Quest Ends at Altar

TOKYO (AP) — The guest of a 76-year-old Argentine millionaire for a Japanese bride ended today at the altar.

Jose Gallicchio, a rancher whose wife died 10 years ago, was wed to Miss Michiko Furukawa, 34, a Japanese teacher at the U. S. consulate at Fukuoka.

Gallicchio had said he hoped to acquire a Japanese bride while here on a sightseeing tour. He said the "feminity and kindness" of Japanese women had impressed him.

The bride commented, "I'm already 34 years old and it's very difficult to make a happy marriage in Japan. I wanted to go to South America since I was a child. I don't care how rich my husband is."

Ellenville Driver Remains in Jail

Thomas Pinkevous, 18, of Ellenville, arrested following a one-car mishap September 18 as an unlicensed operator, was sentenced to $15 or five days when arraigned Wednesday before Justice of the Peace Alton Boyce of Town of Hurley.

Pinkevous suffered minor injuries in the mishap which occurred at 6:45 a. m. on Route 209, Town of Hurley.

The fine had not been paid and the youth was still in Ulster County Jail this morning.

He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Thomas Mayone after his car failed to make a left turn and went off the road coming to a stop in the driveway of Arthur Lewis.

Chamber Urges All To Ask Time for School Hearing

All individuals and organization representatives, whether they favor or oppose area school consolidation, were urged today to request time to be heard at the public hearing before Dr. James E. Allen Jr., on October 1.

In making this announcement today, Robert L. Sabin, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, suggested that a large number of people express their views and emphasized the need for writing to Dr. Allen requesting time to be heard.

In his letter setting the date for the public hearing, Dr. Allen said that requests for time to speak at the hearing must be in his office by Monday, Sept. 29.

The hearing takes place in the George Washington School auditorium Oct. 1 starting at 2 p. m. Because of the importance of the local school consolidation issue, Sabin expressed the opinion that more people should take an active part in helping guide the development of the educational system in the best interests of the children and the taxpayers.

Medical Aide Training Study Offered to Help CD Program

Major H. Edgar Timmerman, director of Civil Defense for Ulster County, today announced that a medical aide training course will be taught this fall in Kingston High School under the adult education program.

This advanced first aid course will qualify persons completing it as second class medical aides. Ulster County is desperately in need of trained medical aides, Timmerman said, to assist doctors in order to fulfill its role as an evacuation area for Metropolitan New York.

Mrs. David H. Hildebrandt, RN, of Saugerties, will be the instructor.

Both men and women are urged to register for this class at Kingston High School on Monday, Sept. 29, at 7 p. m.

Mt. Tremper

ing obtaining the services of a vitally needed physician for the area. It has taken the leadership in a campaign to establish a hospital in the Mt. Tremper area.

The Grange also waged a successful campaign for reconstruction of a part of Route 28, the Onteora trail, with Governor Harriman informing the unit recently that work would be done on the highway; sponsored a highway safety campaign; established libraries at Mt. Tremper and Phoenicia; obtained warning lights for two dangerous intersections; sponsored a township blood bank; led a campaign for flood protection on the west bank of the Esopus creek at Mt. Tremper; promoted youth activities and sponsored various charitable and public service campaigns.

August May is master of Mt. Tremper Grange and Mrs. Howard C. Umhey, its secretary, was chairman of the Community Service committee. She reported that the members devoted a total of 3,154 hours to the Grange activities.

Mt. Tremper is one of 14 Subordinate Granges in Ulster County under the jurisdiction of Vernon A. Barnhart, Stone Ridge, deputy state Grange master for the county.

The Community service contest is sponsored jointly by the National Grange and the Sears-Roebuck foundation to reward Granges for the efforts they make in behalf of their communities.

The civic-mindedness of Mrs. Umhey was recognized early last year when she was appointed to the Shandaken Town board to fill a vacancy, and thus became the first woman to hold an executive office in the township.

In connection with the report of Grange activities, Mrs. Umhey noted:

"Aside from our Grange work, most of the members are active in civic, religious and social organizations.

"Each of our members respects the beliefs and rights of the others. This has resulted in more tolerance, closer friendships, a spirit of cooperation and a greater interest in the Grange.

"While we have had some 'hot' arguments regarding politics, school affairs and other subjects during the lecturer's hour or while having refreshments, we always come out shaking hands."

Mt. Tremper Grangers will be shaking many hands now as the winner of a contest in which competition has become increasingly keen with each passing year.

Accused Paving

him immunity from any prosecution that might otherwise result from answers, Brayer said such immunity was not broad enough. He said it would not free him from the risk of federal prosecution.

Marsh sentenced him to 30 days in jail but delayed signing the final order to give his attorney time to file an appeal.

Meanwhile, U. S. Dist. Atty. John O. Henderson said Brayer would be offered immunity from federal prosecution if he would testify freely before the federal grand jury.

The government said Brayer pleaded the Fifth Amendment last January at a tax liability hearing conducted by the Internal Revenue Service. Henderson said Brayer was not justified in doing so and sought an order from Federal Judge Harold P. Burke directing him to answer.

Payoffs Mentioned

The IRS reported that Brayer had told one of its investigators that he had used the $49,500 for payoffs to city officials saving that these were necessary in order to do business with the city.

Three other contracting firms also are being investigated. The three, with Brayer's company, have done all the repaving work in the city the past five years.

In addition to state and federal actions, a special three-man committee of the City Council has been named to investigate the matter.

Its work was temporarily suspended pending a study by the City Law Department on its legality. The committee was named by Council President William Lawless Jr. The Law Department was asked to determine if it needed to be formed by vote of the whole council.

Agree on Missile Bases

ROME (AP)—The United States and Italy have agreed in principle to set up intermediate-range ballistic missile bases on Italian soil within three months, an informed source said today.

Finletter to Be campaign contributions from two girls at Wellsville and grabbed a baton to lead the Salamanca Central High School band.

He drove through Wyoming, Livingston, Steuben, Allegany and Cattaraugus counties.

Accompanying Rockefeller were Malcolm Wilson, GOP candidate for lieutenant governor, and James Lundy, seeking to become comptroller.

Rep. Kenneth B. Keating, the party's U. S. Senate candidate, arranged hand-shaking visits in Massena, Canton, Ogdensburg and Watertown. He toured Massena, Malone and Potsdam Wednesday.

Harriman was in New York City today where he reviewed his administration's achievements and state government functions in a speech prepared for a Waldorf-Astoria luncheon of the Society of Foreign Consuls.

Praises Democrats

Citing advances in unemployment insurance, child labor laws, help for the aged and the mentally ill and consumer legislation, Harriman commented:

"I don't think it's a coincidence that most of the leaders in these fights have been Democrats, and that most of the advances made both in this state and in the nation to meet the people's needs have been made through their efforts."

Harriman attacked the Republican Party as "the defender of the vested interests and the status quo." He said Democrats, through the years, had been concerned with the people; the Republicans with big business and the well-to-do.

Both Rockefeller and Harriman are members of world prominent, wealthy families.

In Syracuse, Democrat Arthur Levitt, seeking re-election as comptroller, attacked as "false and misleading" GOP claims that the Democrats depleted the state's financial resources.

Credits Ave Budgets

"The only truly balanced state budgets since World War II have been Harriman budgets," Levitt asserted in a speech prepared for a Syracuse Press Club luncheon.

"Apparently Mr. Rockefeller believes that by accusing the Harriman administration of spend-thrift policies, he may cover up for the economic mistakes of his own Republican Party," Levitt said.

He blamed the Eisenhower Administration for the recession. He said it had produced in the federal government the largest peacetime deficit in history.

Finletter was Harriman's choice for the Senate nomination. However, Hogan won handily when Carmine G. DeSapio, leader of Manhattan Democrats, threw his powerful support Hogan's way.

This gave Republicans a strong issue—that DeSapio "bossed" Harriman and planned to take over control of the Manhattan district attorney's office when Hogan moved to Washington.

Harriman blunted this by announcing he would appoint Francis W. H. Adams, campaign manager for Finletter, as district attorney if Hogan won. Harriman made clear he did not consult DeSapio before making the announcement.

Finletter declined a Liberal Party nomination for the Senate. The Liberals then backed Hogan.

In a statement Wednesday night accepting his new post, Finletter said he rejected the Liberal bid on the "belief that as a Democrat I would best work for the things in which I believe within the framework of the Democratic Party."

Finletter said he was convinced the most effective thing he could do at the moment to further Democratic party principles was to work for Harriman and Hogan.

Hogan said he was "delighted" to have him.

NEW YORK (AP) — A selling squall hit the stock market as profits were taken today at its record high. The market was lower but prices steadied early this afternoon.

Pivotal issues were down fractions to more than a point. At worst, the losses of blue chips went to around two points. American Telephone was down that much for a time but clipped the loss.

The wave of selling came in mid-morning and put the ticker tape as much as 3 minutes behind for 34 minutes.

Brokers ascribed the drop to accumulated profit taking and said a large number of stop-loss orders were touched off as prices began to weaken.

Trading in Studebaker-Packard was interrupted temporarily under the huge pressure of sell orders but the net loss was less than a point. The opening in Merck was delayed 45 minutes due to heavy selling occasioned by a special corporate development.

Business news remained fairly good and brokers saw no particular development to trigger the setback. They regarded it as a kind of warning signal that stock prices may be due for a major correction but said this signal remains to be confirmed.

Parke, Davis kept a gain of nearly three points.

Calhoun Gets Six Months on Plea ToUnlawfulEntry

Edward J. Calhoun, 21, of 308 Hurley Avenue, indicted by the grand jury for burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry, along with Bernard Johnston and Christopher Genther, appeared in County Court Wednesday afternoon and a plea of guilty to unlawful entry was entered by Calhoun.

Robert MacKinnon, assigned counsel, told Judge Bruhn that while Calhoun was "not a stranger" to the court, his prior appearances had been on "minor" matters and he said the present difficulty had been from the influence of associates. He asked that leniency be extended.

Assistant District Attorney John Gotelli said the plea was acceptable and Judge Bruhn sentenced Calhoun to six months in the county jail, allowing credit for the four months Calhoun has served.

Calhoun expressed a desire to enter the armed forces and remove himself from the influences which have been responsible for his past difficulties. In view of this situation Judge Bruhn dismissed the burglary count.

Penney Testimony Over

Testimony was concluded late Wednesday afternoon on the Myrtle Penney trial and summations and the charge by the court was postponed until today. Mrs. Penney, Saugerties, is charged with accepting welfare money, while she was working and not reporting her earnings.

The defendant took the stand Wednesday afternoon and testified she had reported the earnings to welfare department employes and stated that although she did report the money earned from work as a dishwasher, there were no deductions made from her welfare checks.

Mrs. Penney, 44, a widow, testified she had four children, her husband was killed in an automobile accident while she was residing in New Jersey back in 1949. She came back to Ulster County and applied for welfare in 1949. Since then she said she had spent 193 days in the hospital at welfare cost. Earnings from her daughter's work had also been reported to the welfare department.

Says She Fed Children

Mrs. Penney said she had used the money she earned to get food for her children. She also admitted she had signed a paper admitting she had committed fraud when she was told she would not receive further welfare unless she signed the paper.

On cross examination she said she had earned upwards of $1,400 while on welfare but had reported it. Asked about a $30 telephone bill, she said the toll charges had been run up by a neighbor who had used her phone for long distance calls. She denied they were charges run up by her 15-year-old daughter in calling her "boyfriend" who was in service.

Mrs. Penney said she had reported when she worked to the welfare department, together with the amounts she and her daughter earned, but said her relief was not reduced except for certain periods when her daughter was working during vacation periods.

It is alleged the acts charged took place during 1955, 1956 and 1957. The daughter's earnings in 1956 were over $500.

Bids On through Pine Hill, to Highmount in Ulster County.

Is Vital Project

"This project will be a vital improvement to the Catskill Mountain region and serve to further develop the social, economic and recreational activity in your county.

"The Governor has written to Mr. Paul Williams, of Delaware County, thanking him for his cooperative efforts with you in getting this project ready for this letting.

"We wish to thank you for your continued interest in this matter, and for directing to us the comments of the various groups in your county, who were concerned about this project."

To Cut Grade, Curves

The steep grade at Pine Hill will be lessened when the road is rebuilt, and sharp curves will be eliminated.

The problem of relocating a section of a privately owned water system at Pine Hill caused delay in preparing the project for bidding, but it was indicated recently that it had satisfactorily resolved itself.

Bids will be opened in Albany Oct. 9 at 10:30 a. m., for the widening and resurfacing of 1.44 miles of the East Chester Street by-pass north of the city line. The road will have a 24-foot wide asphalt concrete pavement No bids were received in August when the state estimated cost was $216,000. The new estimate is $250,000.

GM, Chrysler Take Up Talks With UAW

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors, just five days away from a strike deadline, and Chrysler headed back into contract talks with the United Auto Workers today against a backdrop of crippling wildcat walkouts.

GM flatly labeled the walkouts part of a master plan being directed by UAW leaders in Detroit to bring pressure to bear in the contract negotiations.

Chrysler hinted at a similar sentiment, saying the "timing and extent of these walkouts clearly indicates that they are not all spontaneous affairs over local issues."

The union said the strikes grew out of what it called the companies' refusal to negotiate local grievances. It publicly asked its members in GM and Chrysler plants to stay on their jobs.

More than 57,000 workers in plants across the country were idled—32,000 on GM plants, 14,000 in Chrysler plants and 11,300 in Ford plants.

GM has 250,000 UAW employes, Ford 98,000 and Chrysler 70,000.

Po'keepsie Boy Critical, Hit by Car Near Home

A four-year-old Poughkeepsie boy was critical this morning at St. Francis Hospital, that city, with severe injuries suffered late Wednesday afternoon when he was struck by a car near his home.

Earl Mallory, 50 Gifford Avenue, was reported "still critical" by hospital authorities who said the child had spent a "fair night."

Poughkeepsie police reported that he suffered a possible fractured cheekbone, a fracture of the right clavicle, contusion of the brain and abrasion of the right side.

He was struck by the right fender of a car operated by Fred Wilson Jr., 18, of 1 Harrison Street, Poughkeepsie.

Police said Wilson was proceeding east on Gifford Avenue at the time of the mishap. He was attempting to gauge his distance between an approaching vehicle and a parked car on the narrow street when the child was struck.

The mishap occurred at 5:27 p. m. Wednesday. Police are still investigating.

Three speakers scheduled for the first meeting are Robert Deed, a member of the Board of Education at Nyack who will discuss relationships between the school board and the administration; George Farrington, attoney of the law division of the State Education Department, will speak about the legal relationships between the state education department and the local school; Dr. Everett R. Dyer, executive director of the New York State School Board Association, will discuss his organization's association with the local boards of education.

Dr. William J. Hageny, recently appointed professor of education at the college, is executive secretary of the MHSSC, and has charge of the general arrangements.

Ballot Case

merits whether or not they are in form.

Both commissioners of election, Davis said, would submit affidavits with respect to the merits.

The Economy Party, which in the past has confined its activities to the City of Kingston, this year has placed a full slate in the field. Worthington L. Rider, county chairman of the party, earlier this week stated that court action would be sought to have the candidates appear on the ballot.

Commissioners Disagree

Acceptance of the slate was thrown into court when Commissioners Werbalowsky (R) and Epstein (D) disagreed as to the sufficiency of the petitions filed with the board of elections.

Werbalowsky contends that the petitions do not comply with th provisions of Section 138 of the Election Law in that in the majority of instances the petitions do not carry the necessary information as to election district, ward and last voting residence of the signer. Holding that the petitions appear defective on the face, and consequently do not comply with the election law provisions, Commissioner Werbalowsky declined to accept them and Epstein held they were sufficient. Since no decision could be arrived at by the two man board, the sufficiency of the petitions will be decided by the court.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

Preferred Stocks Are Rarely Good Buys and Certainly Not Now

Q. R. L., New York, writes, "A friend has suggested that I buy General Motors $5 preferred stock now selling around 107. He also recommends Consolidated Edison $5 preferred at 101. I am 40 years old, married, and have an income sufficient to live on and also put something away for the future. I don't own any stocks, have two good savings accounts and would like to invest in something that would pay me more. Should I follow my friend's advice?

A. In my opinion, preferred stocks are rarely good buys and under present money conditions are distinctly poor ones. A preferred issue, unless it is convertible into common, is something of an anomaly. It has neither the security of a bond nor the appreciation potential of a common stock. I can remember in the 1920's a very popular shibboleth, "United States Steel preferred is as good as a bond." This was heard no more after the dividend was partially defaulted in 1932 and the stock plummeted from 118 to 51½. Since dividends on preferred stocks will not be increased, their price movements on the upside are limited. There is no such limitation on the downside, if a corporation gets into trouble.

The two stocks your friend mentioned are excellent in their class. However, like other fixed-income securities, the price of the shares is largely determined by money rates. Since money rates have been firming, the price of your two stocks has been declining and there is no real prospect that this trend will be reversed. In other words, they can and will probably sell lower as business recovery develops. On the upside these two issues are specifically limited by call prices of 120 for General Motors preferred and 105 for Consolidated Edison preferred. Except in the case of certain institutions, I have never advised a client to buy a non-convertible preferred. Your friend was giving you sincere and disinterested advice, but in this instance, I am obliged to take an opposite view.

General Motors Common vs. Preferred

You might be interested to look back a few years and examine the experience of a holder of General Motors preferred compared with the man who bought common. In 1950 the preferred of G. M. was selling at 127. The common in that year sold at 18¼. Today the man who bought the preferred has seen his capital diminish by 20%. The buyer of common in 1950 has had a capital appreciation of 150%. I don't know, of course, that the future rate of growth for General Motors common will match the past. I do believe that the company will continue to expand and so will other leaders of our economy, and that you are so situated that you can share in this growth. You can't do it with the ordinary preferreds. You can, over a period of years, with good common stocks. Why not buy a little common of General Motors or General Electric or Texas Company or Dow Chemical? In fact, I think a package consisting of moderate amounts of each of these issues would offer you a broad participation in the nation's growth.

READER ADVISED TO BUY MUTUAL FUNDS

Q. G., Ohio, writes, "I have about $1,000 to invest in a long-term growth stock. I know nothing about stocks or how to buy them. I don't want to speculate but would like to make some money to supplement my income when I am retired. Do you invest money for people?

A. Replying to your last question first, the answer is no. I am and have been for 35 years an Investment Adviser only. Men in my profession don't deal in securities. If we did, it would be difficult to remain always unbiased. Now let me revert to your possible investment of $1,000. I doubt whether you should undertake the risks which are always present in common stocks. We protect against risk by diversification; that is, spreading our investments over several stocks or stock groups. Thus, a loss in one stock or group should be offset by gains in others. Your letter indicates that you are not in a position to carry out such a program. There are a number of good Mutual Funds which offer diversification and growth. In your circumstances, I would advise putting your money into one of these. Your local bank might help you to make a selection.

(Send your investment questions to Mr. Rogert E. Spear, c/o this paper).

Triple Coup Is Rare Indeed

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Nancy Allen of New York writes: "A footnote in Watson's book says 'The triple coup is extremely rare.' Here is one.

"I won the opening club lead in dummy and led the queen of spades. East covered and I took the ace and jack. I was rather more pleased than annoyed when West showed out. After all, as Watson says, the coup is very rare.

"I led three rounds of diamonds. A heart went on the second diamond and I trumped the good queen. This left me with two more trumps than East. Back to dummy's ace of hearts and I ruffed a second heart to leave me only one extra trump.

"A second club lead put me in dummy and I ruffed a third heart. East discarded a club.

"I played a third club and East followed. Now I led dummy's jack of diamonds and it did not matter what East did. He could only make one trump trick.

Research Produces Today's Fine Canned Gourmet Soups

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We recently visited the agricultural research laboratory of a leading canned soup company in New Jersey. There we saw why canned soups have improved so greatly over the past 10 years. Research has created and tested new varieties of vegetables and developed new methods and materials for disease and insect control.

Because tomato soup is one of the most popular, they have developed a number of improved varieties of tomatos, including some that may be suitable for sections of the country where the climate is too hot or too cold for present varieties. Other new strains will result in increased yield, better color and improved flavor. This all results in greater uniformity and better quality of ingredients for today's canned soups.

Here are some new delicately flavored soup beverages, aromatic with spice and easy to prepare. They are best served in mugs or cups.

GOURMET Chicken Soup Indienne comes easily out of modern cans and into handy mugs by way of an old-fashioned tureen.

Aromatic Tomato Soup: Blend 1 can (10½ ounces) tomato soup and 1 soup can water in saucepan. Add 1 whole clove garlic, 2 whole cardamon seeds or 2 whole cloves, ½ stick cinnamon or ⅛ teaspoon ground cinnamon and 1 bay leaf. Simmer 5 to 7 minutes to blend flavors. Discard garlic. This makes 3 servings.

Chicken Soup Indienne: Blend 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup and 1 soup can water in saucepan. Add 2 small bay leaves, 8 to 10 cumin seeds, ⅛ teaspoon ginger and ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg. Simmer 5 minutes. This makes 3 servings

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Aromatic tomato soup, broiled swordfish steaks, lemon-chive butter, souffle potatoes, canned peas with mushrooms, crusty bread, butter or margarine, mixxed green salad, oil and lemon juice dressing, compote of canned plums, apricots and cherries, coffee, tea, milk.

Celery With Sauce

Cook thin crescents of celery in a small amount of lightly salted boiling water; drain and make a medium white sauce, using the cooking liquid from the celery for part of the milk. Reheat the drained celery in the sauce.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Industrial leaders today are asking: How big a gain in business can we expect? Some brave ones are already answering.

If the turn in the economy means better sales prospects, they need to pinpoint the share they can expect and to set the production and marketing plans that will capture it.

Coast-to-coast telephone interviews today with leaders in key industries and some government spending experts show how the thinking is running.

It adds up largely to a moderate to good advance this fall in durables and soft goods, with 1959 prospects brighter. The interviews highlight a special marketing conference here of the American Management Assn.

Malcolm P. Ferguson, president of Bendix Aviation in Detroit, stresses the government's big role. He foresees "a four to five year period of defense expenditures substantially at the present rate and with increased emphasis on new weapons systems and research and development." But he looks for "little or no increase in the volume of procurement of so-called conventional equipment and soft goods."

In this connection the Department of Commerce is just out with a prediction that procurement contracts to be signed by the Defense Department this fiscal year will reach 19 billion dollars, up a billion from last year.

Robert S. Stevenson, president of Allis-Chalmers of West Allis, Wis., says "1958 is showing decided strength" in the farm equipment industry, which felt the recession ahead of most others, and is recovering sooner. A big help: farm income is 5 to 6 per cent ahead of 1957.

Arthur Rosenbaum, manager of the Economic Research Division of Sears, Roebuck of Chicago, thinks national retail sales of soft goods will be only 1 per cent higher this fall than last, but looks for a 4 to 5 per cent gain for next spring over the previous year's figures. Women's and children's apparel show a stronger sales trend than men's clothing. Retail competition is holding down the pressures for price increases, he says.

A. B. Layton, president of Crown-Zellerbach of San Francisco, reports the paper industry operating around 85 per cent of capacity although production is only 3 per cent below the 1956 high. He says: "The excess capacity comes from substantial new facilities started several years ago in expectation of increasing growth, but completed amid a recession."

Bulls and Bears In News Reports

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bulls and bears—definitely not the stock market variety — had their ups and downs on the news front Wednesday.

At Princeton, Mo., a hopped-up Hereford bull, breaking out of a barn invaded playgrounds of a junior high and an elementary school during recess. At the junior high, about 160 pupils made like rabbits into the schoolhouse. Mrs. Jewel Hagan, a teacher, providing rear guard action, was charged by Mr. Bull. She climbed a fence to safety.

Butts 10-Year-Old

At the elementary school nearby the bull charged Mrs. Jessie Alley, a teacher. She dodged and escaped. It butted 10-year-old Maureen David from a swing, but fell down. Maureen and her classmates fled. Livestock handlers finally corralled the bull.

At Buena Vista, Colo., a big black bear ambled down out of the mountains. After munching on some apples in an orchard, it climbed into a cottonwood tree and relaxed. A crowd gathered.

Shooting Protested

Game Warden A. C. Jordan tried to coax the bear to come down. Honeyed phrases were no use. The bear wouldn't budge. The townsfolk protested when Jordan figured he'd have to shoot the animal, so he put away his gun.

At last report brother Bear still was sprawled in the big tree, blinking curiously at the two-legged characters gathered beneath him.

At South Portland, Maine, it was Bull Moose Day. The 900-pound creature was grazing peacefully in a swampy area when he was suddenly surrounded by police, photographers and hundreds of curious residents.

Couldn't Take it

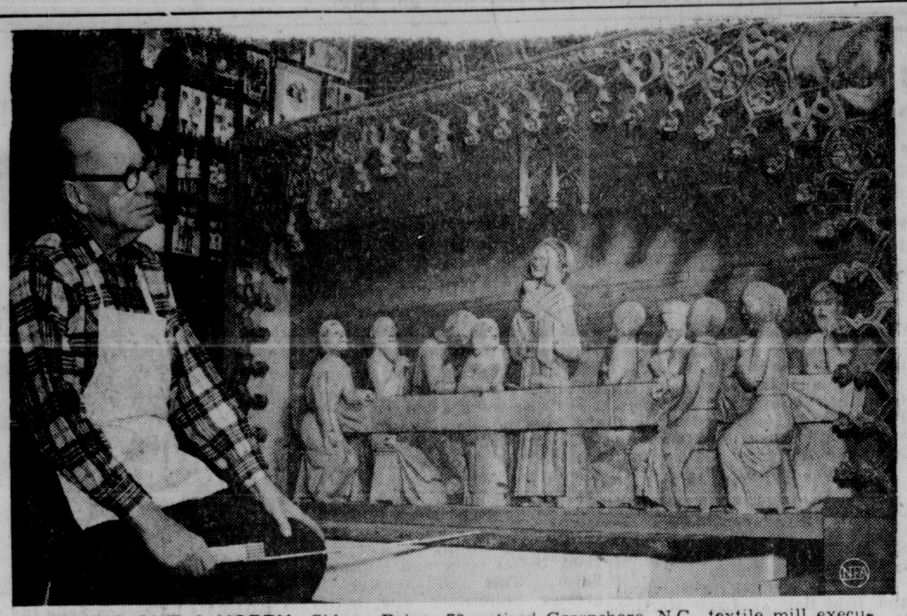

This went on for several hours and the big-antlered moose couldn't take it. He thundered across main streets and through back yards. Finally a steel fence was in his way. He charged full tilt. The fence didn't budge and the moose was all shook up. He surrendered meekly to a veterinarian, who gave him what he needed—a tranquilizer.

Last heard from, the mixed up moose was living it up on a pink cloud—but behind the bars of the state game farm.

Special Meeting

Members of Congregation Agudas Achim will hold a special meeting tonight 8:30 o'clock at the vestry hall, West Union Street, to plan a memorial service for their cantor, the Rev. Michael Klein, who died recently.

CARVING OUT A HOBBY—Sidney Paine, 70, retired Greensboro, N.C., textile mill executive, looks at his nearly finished wood carving of "The Last Supper." More than 1,200 hours went into the work, which was carved from a 415-pound block of white oak 76 inches wide. Paine took up wood carving several years ago in anticipation of retirement and became so proficient that now he teaches the craft. Only cost to the students is their promise to carve for their own churches.

Quemoy Licking Supply Problem

By FORREST EDWARDS

QUEMOY (AP) — Col. Douglas Lane, chief U.S. military adviser on Quemoy, said today this shell-blasted Nationalist Chinese island fortress is licking a critical supply problem.

"Everyone is still worried about the supply situation, but supplies are getting in," Lane told newsmen.

Progress Every Day

"Progress is being made every day with every supply mission. There has been a lot of progress, but that does not mean there is not room for much more progress."

How much is being landed by ship or air dropped on the yellow sand beaches was kept secret.

But supplies are being landed almost daily on both this island and Little Quemoy. More than 100 parachutes with supplies attached were sighted two mornings in a row by newsmen this week on one small beach area after successful night drops.

In a separate news conference, Lt. Gen. Ko Yueng-fen, deputy commander of the Nationalist garrison, admitted Quemoy's defenders had to dip into war reserves earlier this month when the Red artillery blockade shut off all imports.

Build Up Reserves

But Ko said the reserves are now being built up again.

Lane, from Maysville, Okla., told reporters the Nationalists under present conditions could turn back any invasion attempt.

Morale of the defenders is excellent and morale of the American advisers could not be better, he said.

Committee on Constitution Spends Most, Survey Shows

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Nelson A. Rockefeller's committee on the State Constitution is the biggest spender among 46 legislative committees and temporary state commissions, a survey shows.

These agencies returned questionnaires on their operations to a special legislative unit probing payroll practices of the Legislature. The agencies' appropriations total $2,400,000 for the current fiscal year.

Leader Not Consulted

The questionnaires were made public by the Republican leaders of the Senate and Assembly. Republican Assemblyman Paul L. Talbot of Otsego County, who heads the special unit, told a reporter he was not consulted.

Rockefeller is the Republican candidate for governor.

The Legislative Committee on Revision and Simplification of the Constitution, which Rockefeller heads, listed 10 full-time employes and 61 consultants. Fifty-seven of these were paid. The annual payroll for the full-time employes totaled $87,900.

The committee has a $150,000 appropriation.

Paid by Predecessor

However, the report said most of the consultants, who received a total of $75,560, were paid from funds of the committee's predecessor.

The group, also headed by Rockefeller, was known as the Temporary State Commission on the Constitutional Convention. It had a $300,000 appropriation.

The Rockefeller committee's executive director, William J. Ronan, receives $17,500 a year. He is a former dean of New York University.

Ronan, however, is not the highest paid.

This honor goes to Nathan Skolnik, deputy commissioner of investigation. He gets $18,000. The four commissioners of investigation are paid $15,000 each. Skolnik, hired by the commissioners, handles administrative matters.

Horace S. Evans of Loudonville receives $16,300 as executive director of the Flood Control Commission.

Few Are Full-Time

Most of the committees and commissions said they hired only a few full-time employes, usually three or four, and one or two consultants.

There are few salaries in the over-$10,000 bracket.

The questionnaires did not include the Legislature's own employes or those of its standing committees.

Some of their high salaries, and newspaper reports of others doing little or no work, touched off the payroll study last winter.

The Rockefeller unit listed two other employes, besides Ronan, in a relatively high salary bracket.

They were John E. Bebout of Cedar Grove, N. J., receiving $14,000 as associate director of the committee, and Edward Kresky of New York City, being paid $13,000 as executive assistant.

Payments to the committee consultants ranged from $300 to $4,500. They covered studies in various fields affected by the Constitution.

Woman Is Named Head of Izaak Walton League

At a three day convention held in the Arlington Hotel, Binghamton last weekend the 1800 members of the New York State Division of the Izaak Walton League of America chose the first woman president in its history. The conservation group elected Mrs. Roger McCane of the Schenectady Chapter, who defeated Clifford Irving, a Schenectady neighbor.

Mrs. McCane succeeds Ralph I. Krohn of Utica as state president of the League which claims a national membership of more than 20,000. James A. Innes of the Ellenville Chapter was elected district vice president.

Delegates from this area included Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth McDole of Wawarsing and Mr. and Mrs. James Innes of Ellenville.

May Take to Air

SUDBURY, Ont. (AP) — The International Nickel Co., of Canada may take to the air to avoid picket line incidents in a strike that has paralyzed Canada's biggest mining operation.

The company was reported planning to use helicopters to ferry officials and supplies between its Sudbury district plants while non-union members work in the mines to maintain equipment.

Nearly 13,000 workers struck Wednesday when contract talks collapsed. Another 1,000 members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers walked out at Inco's Port Colborne refinery.

The union's demand for an eight per cent pay increase was rejected on the grounds of reduced markets and prices and large stockpiles.

Early Coins

Earliest known copper-nickel alloy coins were minted about 170 B. C. in Bactria, a kingdom in India which was later conquered by Alexander the Great.

Filly Is Destroyed

NEW YORK (AP) — A $25,000 filly sired by Native Dancer and owned by Aly Khan went wild in a cargo plane Wednesday. The horse injured itself so badly it had to be destroyed.

The KLM plane was taking off from Idlewild Airport for Amsterdam when the yearling broke out of a stall. Two grooms were unable to calm the horse, which had no name. The plane stayed on the ground and a veterinarian was called. He destroyed the animal.

Rev. King Gains, New Threat Bared

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. continues to improve at Harlem Hospital.

Well-wishers are still sending messages to the 29-year-old Negro integration leader from Montgomery, Ala.

An anonymous telephone threat evidently aimed at King was received at the hospital Wednesday. A phone operator reported that a man with a southern accent told her, "I'm not going to fail the next time." Police searched the five-story hospital and found nothing suspicious.

On Tuesday there had been two telephoned bomb threats.

King's wife and other members of his family visited him again Wednesday. Mrs. King, who spent about three hours with him, said he seemed much stronger.

A Negro woman, Mrs. Isola Ware Curry, 42, stabbed King in the chest with a steel letter opener in a Harlem department store last Saturday. She is undergoing mental examination at Bellevue Hospital.

Ave Bids Benson Rescind Order on Pricing Revision

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Harriman accuses the Eisenhower administration of again discriminating against New York State when it set a new policy for pricing grain exported at Baltimore.

Harriman called on Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson to rescind the order.

The Agriculture Department has decided to price corn barley and oats on a delivered basis for export at the Port of Baltimore. Formerly, Harriman pointed out, surplus grains were sold by the department at a uniform price delivered at any port of export.

The pricing revision, Harriman said, would boost costs by 1½ cents a hundred pounds for shipping grains from the Port of New York.

In a telegram to Benson Wednesday, the Democratic governor declared:

"This action is grossly unfair to the Port of New York and can only be interpreted as part of a continued federal pattern of discriminations against this state."

He urged Republican Benson to "reaffirm as soon as possible the federal government's former policy of treating all North Atlantic ports and states on terms of equality."

The governor noted that the Port of New York Authority, the New York Produce Exchange, the Lehigh Valley and New York Central railroads, the State Commerce Department and private grain merchants opposed the order.

Gunman Seized After Underground Chase

NEW YORK (AP)—A gunman held up a 42nd Street movie theater Wednesday, then led police on an underground and street level chase before he was captured.

Police said Ernest Green, 22, held up the theater manager, forced him to open a safe, and fled with $258.

The manager, Benjamin Rosenberg, and a theater porter chased the gunman shouting for help as they ran.

Green fled along an underground arcade to the Times Tower building at the foot of Times Square, then headed for the surface. He dropped the satchel of money, which was picked up by Rosenberg.

Police, joining the chase, commandeered a taxicab, followed Green to a Sixth Avenue cafeteria, and arrested him. They said Green had a loaded revolver in his waistband.

Are Red Plans Derailed?

Communist Fury Shows In Press Jabs at Ike

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

The official Chinese Communist press has called President Eisenhower a hooligan.

The Soviet Communist party has used its own official press to attack President Eisenhower personally and slanderously.

There is more than a suggestion of fury in all this. Perhaps some of the best laid plans of Mao Tze-tung and Nikita Khrushchev have been derailed.

It is not a matter of particular note that Khrushchev is furious. He usually is. It is just that he is getting furiouser and furiouser.

Seldom Very Nice

Khrushchev long ago discarded the notion that diplomacy should be the science of saying the most offensive things in the least offensive way. He seldom has had anything nice to say to the west at any time. When he has had something offensive, he has let it go in all its naked nastiness.

The Soviet boss, never aspiring to be the polished diplomat, has used such endearing terms as "warmonger" and "arch-criminal" in speaking of Winston Churchill. Only recently he has seen fit to compare France's Premier de Gaulle with Hitler. But he had been a little more cautious—up to now—in his exchanges with President Eisenhower.

Sound Off Together

Now, however, he and his Chinese allies sound like two voices of a musical round.

A couple of days ago the official Chinese Communist press accused President Eisenhower of adopting "hooliganist methods" in rejecting Khrushchev's Sept. 19 letter. In that communication Khrushchev had accused the President of being a captive of a Dulles "brink of war" policy and of using atomic blackmail.

Hooligan is a Russian word and a nasty one, meaning the lowest type of rowdy. But the controlled Peiping press went beyond that. It compared the President with former Secretary of Defense Forrestal, who, it said, "suffering from military hysteria, went mad when it seemed to him Soviet planes already were bombing New York, and jumped from a window." Pravda, Khrushchev's official voice, saw fit to reprint this Peiping bit Wednesday.

Fury Most Interesting

In itself, all this fury is most interesting.

Possibly the least that had been expected of Khrushchev's letter was that it would bring a reply. The reply would call for another Khrushchev broadside and a debate would be under way in which the Communists could try to make fruitful propaganda.

Under this propaganda screen, the Communists might find a profitable way of easing off, temporarily, their pressure in the current Far East crisis, which is becoming more dangerous daily. The Chinese themselves were involved in a brink of war policy, without much to back it up, and the Soviets were committed to go to Chinese aid in the event of a shooting war with a third party.

Could Mean More Letters

A propaganda debate could be a springboard for another of Khrushchev's famous and ferocious letter-writing campaigns to frighten other governments and populations.

When Eisenhower rejected Khrushchev's letter out of hand, Red policy was in an awkward position. It had blustered and threatened. The threats and bluster had been dismissed as boorishness.

What could the Communists do next? They could hardly try again in a softer voice and admit the error of the previous approach. They would hardly want the outside world to think their bluff had been called. But they could scarcely resort to deeds instead of words. The Red Chinese cannot afford a major war and the Soviets have shown no enthusiasm for the prospect. Perhaps the big noise is designed to cover up a temporary confusion.

We prefer cheerful people to witty ones; wit is cheerfulness painfully intellectualized.

A South American bigwig was scheduled to spend a night in a small Peruvian town. His aide sent word to the local innkeeper asking that "a room be prepared with special accommodations, food, etc., etc., etc."

Arriving at the town, the South American was then shown the best room in the hotel. After he had expressed approval, the biggie was conducted into an adjoining room where sat three lovely senoritas.

Bigwig—And who are these young ladies?

Inkeeper—The three et ceteras.

Two farmers ran racing stables and keen rivary existed between them. They each entered a horse in a local steeplechase, and one of them, thinking he would get the better of his friend, engaged a crack jockey. The two horses were leading at the last fence, which proved to be too stiff for them. They fell, unseating their riders, but the expert jockey quickly remounted and won the race. On returning triumphant to the paddock he found the farmer who had engaged him fuming with rage.

Jockey—What's up? I won. didn't I?

Farmer—Yes, you won all right, you idiot, but you were on the wrong horse!

The element of trust, which is part of real faith, is forcibly illustrated by a story the late Evangelist Ruth was fond of telling. After Blonden a number of years ago walked a wire rope across the gorge below Niagara Falls, he said the rope-walker announced that on the next day he would push a man across on the same wire in a wheelbarrow. This caused much excitement. The papers had glaring headlines. Many argued that this would be an impossible feat, while a few seemed to think it coulld be done.

Mr. Ruth represents himself on the streets of Niagara the day of the proposed performance, freely expressing his belief that the ropewalker will take his man across successfully. Just at this time the ropewalker comes along the street and meets Mr. Ruth.

Mr. Ruth (shaking hands)—I am certainly glad to meet you. I have been boosting for you all day. I believe you know your business; I say you'll take your man across safely.

Man—It is indeed a pleasure to meet you, Mr. Ruth, I've been looking all day for a man like you—I want you to get into the wheelbarrow.

Auto Accident Costs Are Heavy

CHICAGO — It costs society about $27,700 for the death of every person in an auto accident.

But if you add to that the costs of 35 personal injury and 240 property damage accidents for every fatal accident, the total bill per fatality is more than $135,000.

With 38,500 persons killed in traffic last year, the full cost of highway accidents, including non-fatal injuries and property damage, was $5,300,000,000.

These statistics come from the National Safety Council as it prepares for the National Safety Congress, its annual convention, which will be held here Oct. 20-24.

The Congress will bring 12,500 safety specialists in Chicago, and they will spend five jam-packed days studying ways to prevent traffic and other accidents—which last year killed 95,000 persons. The Congress is the world's largest safety meeting. More than 900 speakers and program participants will speak at 300 sessions.

Everything from safety in space propulsion and ammonium nitrate blasting to boating safety and bachaches will be studied by the delegates.

The theme of the 46th Congress is "Safety Begins at Home." A highlight of the convention will be the banquet, attended by 2,000 delegates, in the grand ballroom of the Conrad Hilton hotel Oct. 22. Theodore S. Repplier, president of the Advertising Council, will be the banquet speaker.

Refunds on Excise Taxes on Gasoline

Taxpayers have until Sept. 30 to file claims for refund of Federal excise taxes paid on certain gasoline purchases from July 1, 1957 to June 30, 1958, James A. O'Hara, District Director of Internal Revenue announced today.

Mr. O'Hara said farmers who purchased gasoline during that time for use on the farm are entitled to refund of the full three cents a gallon tax by filing Form 2240.

Other taxpayers, he said, who purchased gasoline for non-highway use may claim refund of one cent a gallon by filing Form 843.

Mr. O'Hara said taxpayers who file by mail must have their claims postmarked no later than Sept. 30.

Mr. O'Hara said helpful information about these two refund provisions of the law can be found in Internal Revenue Service booklets, "Farmer's Gas Tax Refund," Publication on Number 308 (6-58), and "Federal Gas Tax Refund for Nonhighway and Transit Users." Publication Number 378 (6-58).

He said these booklets and claim forms can be obtained from his office at 161 Washington Avenue, Albany, N. Y.

Davis, a native of McGraw, Cortland County, N. Y., commanded the Army's 31st and 32nd heavy artillery brigades in France under Gen. John J. Pershing. Davis fought in the battles of St. Mihiel, the Argonne and Meuse.

Davis also served in China and the Philippines. He retired in 1921 with the rank of brigadier general. He was promoted to major general in 1942 on Pershing's recommendation.

'58 Road Toll Higher

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Traffic accidents claimed 198 lives during August in New York State, boosting the eight-month total to 1,353.

The Motor Vehicle Bureau, reporting the figures Wednesday, said the total was six more than during the first eight months of 1957.

Homes Shabby, Methods Are Old

Soviets Press Farmers To Beat U.S. Growers

By BEVERLY DEEPE
Written for The Associated Press

They call it a farm. But it isn't. It is really a gigantic factory in which workers are continually hounded to meet American production standards.

More than 18,000 people work on a huge, 32,000-acre factory-farm east of Stalingrad that I visited as a member of the U.S.-U.S.S.R. student exchange program.

Goal: Produce More

Their big objective, the director said, is to have each Russian produce more than the average individual American farmer.

"We have to look at the United States in this field and we have to take them on," he said. "By means of peaceful competition, we want to achieve the level of American agricultural production and then overtake this level."

"But," I asked, "what will you do with the surpluses after overtaking the U.S. farmer?"

The director laughed. "Ask the minister of agriculture," he replied.

Workers live in five haphazard little communities on the farm, mostly in four-room homes of wood or peeling stucco owned by the government. About 10 per cent live in state-owned apartment houses.

Kaskalen is one of the comunities—a listless town where a white stucco Palace of Culture for nightly movies and dances is still under construction. There are no churches.

An Aqua Volga, resembling a 1955 Ford, rolled down the asphalt main street. But just outside the village, small donkey carts carried dusty men over dusty roads.

State Buys Surplus

The state owns the farm and pays the workers' wages. The farm meets the production quotas set by the state and sells any surplus to the state.

Each farmer has three quarters of an acre which the state lets him cultivate as he pleases. Each farmer also has permission to raise a few cattle.

Otherwise, they are the human tools who operate the state's tractors, combines and other machinery for the benefit of the state.

There are 3,500 unskilled workers who cultivate the corn, harvest the grain, hoe the 3,000 acres of garden crops and plant the sugar beets on this one farm. They also tend the dairy cows, goats, horses, pigs—and 300 camels.

The farm has more than 6,000 children who attend various schools and the agricultural institute.

Picture of Home

Before leaving, the director took us to the four-room, crumbling stucco home of a farm mechanic—described as "one of the professional people"—and his wife and three daughters.

We entered a reception room where a rubber plant filled about a fourth of the space. There was also a settee covered with white muslin, a chiffonier, a short-wave radio and a vase of artificial flowers.

A rubber doll sat on the cardboard bed in the corner. The walls were decorated by a clock, a barometer and a painting of a watermelon done by the housewife.

The kitchen was about 9 by 15 feet. An aluminum pot was boiling on the single-burner, electric hotplate. There was a white-washed iron stove about four feet high and an enamel sink two feet wide with a single cold water tap.

No Windows

There was also a low cupboard with peeling wine-colored paint and a worn wine oilcloth. There were no windows.

The parents slept in a single-sized iron bed covered with a lace bedspread and needlepoint pillows. A foot-operated, treadle-type sewing machine stood near the window. Embroidered samplers decorated the walls.

The children's room contained two small beds. Brown and blue bedspreads decorated the walls. And in the corner, I saw a broken mirror.

Next: Going to Church.

A THOUSAND TIMES NON—The word "non" (no) is much in evidence on the street and walls in this section of Paris as voting for a new constitution draws near, at which time Premier Charles de Gaulle will submit his proposed reorganization of the French government to the electorate. This picture was taken in the Gennevilliers district, a stronghold of the Communists who are among those opposing the new constitution.

VA Asks Survivors Benefits Check On GI Policies

F. William Sheehan, officer in charge of the five county Veterans Administration office, main post office here announced today that an estimated 200,000 servicemen who have GI insurance policies under in-service waiver of premium payments might—in the event of death—cause their survivors to receive reduced benefits payments.

On the the other hand, Sheehan adds, in some cases in an in-service waiver might actually increase the VA benefits survivors would receive.

Sheehan says the generally higher death payments authorized last year by the Survivor Benefits Act do not apply to the survivors of those who die while their GI insurance policies are under in-service waiver of premium payments.

However, such survivors may be eligible for the old and generally lesser amounts of death compensation paymets.

"Generally higher" or "generally lesser" do not mean "always," VA cautions.

Several factors determine which is the greater benefit, Sheehan says. These include the serviceman's number and kind of dependents, and his basic monthly pay.

Not affected by an in-service waiver is the payment of the GI policy proceeds to the designated beneficiary or beneficiaries, Sheehan points out.

Servicemen whose policies are still under in-service waiver should determine whether—in event of death—the waiver's existence would be in the best interests of their survivors. If not, they should cancel the waiver and resume full payment of premium, Sheehan advises.

Complete information is available from personal affairs and insurance officers in the services, or at any VA office.

The flag of the new state, Alaska, has eight stars. Seven represent the Great Dipper and the eighth represents the North Star.

Souvenir Book For Anniversary

All city and county residents are invited to participate and help make our entire region more attractive to visitors next year.

This invitation was extended today by George J. Silkworth, local chairman of the Community Beautification Committee for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration.

"Because of our Dutch background," Silkworth said, "it would be very nice if we planted thousands of tulips this Fall, as well as other flowering bulbs and plants, for next year's bloom.

Plans for Kingston's participation in the Hudson-Champlain Celebration are progressing as well as the cooperation with other counties in the Hudson Valley.

An attractive souvenir book will be published as part of Kingston's 350th Anniversary Celebration of Henry Hudson's discovery of the Hudson River. Agnes Scott Smith is chairman of the committee in charge of publication. In making this announcement today it was pointed out that the souvenir book published in 1952, in connection with Kingston's 300th Anniversary, is now a collector's item and requests for it are still being received. Miss Smith also had charge of publishing the 1952 book. It is planned to publish a similar book composed entirely of historical material and pictures.

Wonder Drugs Work Miracles, But—

Old Fashioned Prayer, Faith, Laughter Are Potent Healers

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) Today's wonder drugs work miracles, but old-fashioned prayer, faith and laughter are still potent healers.

This story of a young wife with three children seems to prove a point. It began last March when the wife telephoned her husband who was in Holland on a business trip.

"I'm afraid I have some terrible news," she said. "The doctors say I have tuberculosis."

"But are they sure?" asked the staggered husband.

"Yes. The X-rays show two spots. One is a bad cavity. They want me to go to the hospital tomorrow."

Stroke of Humor

"What's funny?"

"Nothing. But it's better than having to go tonight."

The husband hurried home. The doctors were right. He helped his wife pack and ordered a taxi for the hospital. Tearfully, she said goodby to her children.

It was a gray day, one of those damp London afternoons when the mist-shrouded buildings blended mournfully into the slate-colored sky.

The taxi bumped along—and to the husband's horror — began to overtake a funeral procession.

In All Their Prayers

She was Russian born and one message from Moscow said the Orthodox priest at St. Peter and Paul had lighted some candles and offered prayers for her recovery.

"Engaged," said the sign.

"Honey," she said to her husband, "will you scratch out that word 'engaged'?"

"Yes, but why?"

Laughter Great Help

The eminent doctor beside her bed smiled. He shook his head. Surgeon to King George VI, he was one of the world's greatest authorities on tuberculosis.

"Drugs and operations work miracles," he said. "So does laughter such as that."

Ulster Schools Get $4,490,356 In 57-58 Aid

New York State aid payments for public elementary and secondary schools in Ulster County during the school year 1957-58 totalled $4,490,356.76, it was announced today by Dr. James E. Allen Jr., commissioner of education.

Dr. Allen's report indicated preliminary estimates of the amounts to be paid during the present school year are $5,469,000.

The tabulations and forecasts do not include state aid payments for school lunch programs, libraries, for handicapped children paid through counties, for recreation to the elderly and for experimental programs and summer schools for children of migrant workers.

Reimbursement for school lunches has not been included because these payments are made from both Federal and State money. The State money is used to supplement the Federal money which has not been sufficient to meet the full requirements.

Counties, Cities Share

State aid for libraries is paid to other than school districts, such as payments to counties and cities.

State aid for experimental programs was made available in legislation of 1958 and is not to be distributed until the school year 1958-59.

State aid for summer school programs for children of migrant workers represents a very small amount and is determined partly on the basis of needs and programs that vary, and final determinations have not been made in all cases.

Preliminary Estimate

The Department has also prepared preliminary estimates of comparable payments to be made during the school year 1958-59. The estimates are based upon enrolled projections furnished by school districts during the middle of the school year of 1957-58 and have been adjusted in accordance with changes in the education law relating to distribution of state aid. Actual state aid payments will be made on the actual attendance for that period for which reports are now being received.

TOO SKINNY? — The former Pamela Gant of London, England, weighed 240 pounds when bricklayer John Endicott proposed to her. Thinking to please him, the 21-year-old redhead slimmed down from a "barrage balloon" 47-35-54 to a shapely 38-26-38. The skirt she holds above gives some idea of her former girth. But now husband John complains, "I preferred her plump." The couple has agreed to a separation after three months of marriage.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—In a preview of "Harvey" last Monday I expressed some reservation over the wisdom of critics judging a TV show on the basis of a dress rehearsal before the public has seen the final version.

Herewith I withdraw that reservation. My reason for changing my mind is basically this: Everyone in the viewing audience with whom I've discussed the matter likes the idea of reading a critics's impressions before viewing an important TV show.

"You can't positively make up my mind as to whether a show is good or bad before I've seen it," said one man. "But you can give me something to think about before I see a show. If nothing else, you can make me think how foolish your judgment is."

Reason For More

The reason for bringing this case to public court is ironic. It appears that a majority of TV critics, both in and out of New York, don't like the idea. And it appears that their griping is in danger of causing the overly sensitive networks to ban further previews of live television shows.

It now seems probable that last Sunday's episode, in which the sponsor of the season's first "du Pont Show of the Month" invited critics to publish their opinions of a New York dress rehearsal of "Harvey," will be called a failure. Unless more people applaud this fine experiment, it's not likely to be repeated.

The basic reason why critics out of New York don't like previews seems to be that they feel the practice gives unfair advantage to critics in New York. I don't follow this. If their newspapers wish, they can ignore previews or publish the preview of a syndicated New York critic and follow it up with the local critics' reviews.

Women Attack Previews

But the greatest irony of the preview pooh-bah is that the experiment may have been destroyed by an element of the New York TV critics—the female element. I knew positively that there was not a New York TV critical fraternity, but until last weekend I hadn't realized there was a sorority.

Let's hope that sensitivity does not run so high at CBS that a complaint can destroy a significant innovation in television programming and reviewing.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Does your pocketbook have that lean and hungry look?

If so, you'll be glad to learn that many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores will feature chuck roast — the housewife's budget standby—this weekend. Some are backing it up with offerings of other low priced cuts such as rump roast, plate boiling beef and smoked beef tongue.

Bargains Only Temporary

This week's emphasis on bargain beef is expected to be only temporary, however, as government experts look for ample amounts of high-grade beef this fall but lessened supplies of the lower grades. Although the 1958 total is expected to run about 5 per cent less than 1957, October supplies will be seasonally large. Large marketings of fed cattle will combine with shipments of grass-fed animals.

Fryers and pork loins, two more items that lean more toward economy than luxury, also are due to top billing in some places. Smelts and flounder are featured in fish-eating areas.

Egg Prices Dip

Egg prices are down 2 to 9 cents a dozen over wide areas, although some higher prices are reported, too. Small eggs are the best buy at this time of year because of heavy production as young hens start to produce.

The outlook for early fall vegetables is for considerable increases over last year in cabbage and carrots, with smaller increases for tomatoes and cauliflower. Lettuce, celery, cucumbers and snap beans will be down, on the other hand.

Martyrs Shrine Ceremonies Set At Auriesville

The Feast of the Jesuit Martyrs of North America will be celebrated with special pomp and ceremony at the Shrine of the Martyrs at Auriesville, Sunday. There will be Mass every hour in the morning with the afternoon filled with special devotions.

The main Pilgrimage Mass will be at 12 noon. His Excellency, the Most Rev. William A. Scully, DD, Bishop of Albany, will preside at the noon day Mass which will be sung by the Rev. Rector of Auriesville, William J. Schlaerth, SJ. The Most Rev. Philip Furlong, DD, auxiliary to the Military Vicar of the Armed Forces will preach the sermon at the noonday Mass.

A fleet of buses from the Jesuit Schools, colleges, parishes and residences will form the largest of the Pilgrimages. This Pilgrimage is under the leadership of the Mens Sodality of St. Ignatius Church, New York.

Special features of the day will be the presence of the Boy Scouts of the Albany Diocese who will climax a three day retreat at Auriesville by acting as a special escort to His Excellency, Bishop Scully, at the noonday Mass. The Ancient Order of Hibernians of the state will come in force to add to the festivities of the day. The color guard of the Knights of Columbus of the Amsterdam area will come to assist the Bishop and honor the martyrs. Many other smaller groups are also coming to the Shrine.

A special attraction will be the presence of the world-famous Little Singers of Paris. On tour of the United States and Canada, the Little Singers have now sung in 30 different countries and have given seven thousand concerts. The Little Singers Choir is composed of thirty boys with tenor and basses all dressed like Carthusian Monks as they sing at Mass.

The Little Singers are scheduled to sing the Missa Cantata at noon and also the 4:15 p. m. Mass in the Coliseum. A short concert will follow the afternoon Mass.

Saturday evening, the Little Singers will sing at the special camp-fire ceremony to be staged on the parking lot at Auriesville at 7:30 p. m. by the Boy Scouts of the Albany Diocese. The public may attend.

Sunday afternoon the stations of the cross will be at 2 p. m. with the procession to the Ravine at 2:30. The special blue ribbon ceremony honoring Our Lady of Lourdes will take place at the Benediction in the Ravine. Auriesville is on the New York Thruway at exit 27 or exit 28.

Leftover Meat Loaf

A good way to use leftover meat loaf is to cut it into small squares and layer it with leftover spaghetti and tomato sauce in a baking dish; sprinkle with grated cheese and heat in the oven.

PROBABLY NEEDS REMINDING

Dear Mrs. Post: I called a friend the other day to ask her for some information. She said she could not give it to me offhand but would call me back. It's been two days since I called her and I still haven't heard from her. Would it be proper for me to call her and ask her if she has the information or must I wait for her to call me, and if she doesn't do so, try to get the information elsewhere? I don't want to seem persistent, but she may have forgotten about it and needs reminding. On the other hand, she may have a reason for not wanting to give me the information and I don't want to force her to do so. Will you please tell me the proper thing to do in this situation?

Answer: There is no reason why you should not telephone her and ask if she has been able to get the information you asked her for the other day.

His Only Near Relative

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother has just recently become engaged to a young woman who lives in another city. (My brother also lives and works in this same city.) I know it is customary for the future bridegroom's parents to call on the bride-to-be to welcome her, but our parents are not living and I am the only near relative. I would like to know if it is up to me to write to his fiancee and welcome her.

Answer: Yes, you as his only near relative should certainly write a letter of welcome to your brother's fiancee.

At A Lunch Counter

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is necessary to leave a tip at a lunch counter if one merely has a cup of coffee or an ice cream soda? It seems kind of silly to me, but I have noticed quite a few people doing it.

Answer: No, a tip for a cup of coffee or a soda at a counter is not necessary.

Of Many Things

Freeman Society Editor

Do Your Eyes Have It?

When people talk to you, they look first (and most often) at your eyes. Do you make the most of these "windows?"

First of all, do you look at others when you are talking to them? A warmly-interested, direct glance can do wonders for your popularity. It's flattering, it shows that your attention is held fast. On the other hand, drooping eyelids or wandering eyes that "table hop" away indicate boredom.

Second, do you take care of your eyes? Do you have them checked every year, do you rest them occasionally, do you read and work in good light? Do you wear sunglasses on glaringly bright days—winter and summer? If you have prescription glasses, do you wear them when you should?

Third, do you "groom" and make-up your eyes as carefully as the rest of your face? Eye make-up should vary sharply—little for daytime, more for evening. But it should never be neglected, or you will neglect what may be your greatest asset. For daytime use, simply smooth a bit of vaseline on upper lid and lashes to give a light sheen and to encourage lashes to grow. Then BRUSH your brows—first against the grain and towards the nose, then straight up, finally into place. (This is the latest from the beauty consultants, girls.)

Before this, of course, you will have used your tweezers to remove the mavericks which grow over the nose and to keep brow line clean, trimmed and well shaped. (It's wise to remove a few lashes each day, instead of having a big tweezing session once a week.)

Today's Brow Lines

Discreet use of the tweezer can change the shape of your brows. But do as little of this as possible, keeping in mind that the painfully thin brow line is very much out of style today. The brow lines recommended by experts are:

Face with down-sloping lines—brows with tiny upward flip at outer edge.

Ordinarily, all plucking should be done from the underedges; but you can put a curve into a straight line simply by removing a few hairs from the top of each end of brow. Use a pencil to help you shape and to give a thicker look. BUT NEVER JUST DRAW ON EYEBROWS.

Models and actresses make their eyes look larger and more attractive by using an eye liner to pencil in a dark line right under the lower lashes. This photographs beautifully, BUT—unless it's done to perfection—looks very artificial for the rest of us, especially in daytime. If you choose to employ this trick, save it for evening and do it delicately.

Eye Shadow

Eye shadow, if used in daytime, must be so delicate that no one will suspect it's there! In the evening, it can be more obvious, but should never be heavy. Too much defeats your purpose—it makes you look clownish or weary, or both.

Apply shadow with a fingertip, close to lashes and carry it just a bit beyond the outer corner of the eye. (If eyes are set close together, do not use shadow all the way to inner corners.) With blue eyes, use gray or brown shadow—with brown eyes, use green or gray-blue shadow — with green eys, use brown shadow — with gray eyes, use blue or green shadow. Applying a touch of foundation under and over your eye shadow blends it in and holds it in place longer.

Apply mascara (brown for light lashes, black for dark ones) with a damp brush, stroking upwards and outwards. Don't use mascara on lower lashes unless they are especially pale. Rinse brush and dry it. Then use it again to separate lashes which tend to cling together when damp.

There are several new eye shadow colors out on the market—yellow, amber, jade. I've seen girls with leopard spot eyelids—they dabbed flecks of brown shadow over a base of yellow! This is strictly according to personal taste. As far as I, personally, am concerned, this type of make-up should be reserved for special effects in photography or on the stage.

Music Group Hears Paper on English Music Composer

Ralph Vaughn Williams, English folklorist, contemporary composer, was the subject of a paper read before a recent meeting of the Music Appreciation Group held at the home of Mrs. John B. Sterley.

The paper was read by Mrs. Richard C. Morse who said that Williams, who died August 26, 1958, was governed, to a large extent, by the same philosophy that governed Bela Bartok of Hungary and Charles Ives in America. All three were influenced by the music of their native country. Like Bartok, Williams, as a member of the English Folk Song Society, went into the field and collected the heritage of native song. Like Bartok and Ives, Williams discovered that his country's music entered his bone and sinew, pushing his pen this way and that.

Born in 1872, Williams had a very personal style. About his music he is reported to have said,

"Whether my music is good or bad, it is always honest, and by that I mean I could not put down on paper a line which I did not first feel in every part of me."

Williams wrote what is known as the "London" Symphony, the F Minor Symphony and the bleak, chilling, "Antartica."

Co-hostess for the meeting was Mrs. William Pederson. Mrs. Conrad Heiselman poured.

An opening tea and reception for the exhibition is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 28, from 3 to 5 p. m. in the College Union Building Lounge, and the exhibition will remain on display until October 19.

This exhibition marks the opening display of the College Art Committee for the 1958-59 school year, and members of the committee indicate that there will be numerous exhibitions throughout the year.

Nell Blaine, who came to New York in 1943, has had numerous one-man shows in several galleries in New York City and in Richmond, Va., and Southern Illinois University. She has also had many of her paintings displayed in group exhibitions in the Art Institute of Chicago, the American-British Gallery, the Jane Street Gallery, the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, and the St. Louis Arts and Crafts Club. Some of her paintings are also being displayed on a touring exhibition sponsored by the State Department, entitled "Realities-Nouvelles."

In addition to her outstanding work as a painter, she has also been a costume designer for modern dancers, a ceramic designer, has taught painting, and conducted private and group composition classes since 1944. She has paintings in over 30 private collections, including the collections of Ida Fischer, John Ashbery, Dr. Arnold Cooper, and Judith Rothschild.

Nell Blaine has studied widely in art history, anatomy, sculpture, and advertising art with numerous outstanding artists, and she has done work at the Richmond School of Art, an extension of the College of William and Mary, the Virginia Museum, and she did additional work at the Hans Hofmann School of Fine Art in New York City.

According to George Wardlaw, assistant professor of art education, who is in charge of the Art Committee's exhibit, this coming display promises to be one of the outstanding exhibitions of the year, and he urges all interested persons to attend.

Moehle Praises OCS Teachers As Above Average

The calibre of the average teacher at Onteora Central is higher than elsewhere he learned from his observations as a teacher, John H. Moehle, supervising principal of Onteora Central School, told the opening session of the Onteora PTA.

Stressing that in his opinion the most important person in any schoolhouse is the classroom teacher, Moehle urged the large audience to distinguish clearly between those things we cannot change and bring about those we can change as a first step in development of the theme of his speech "Sense and Sanity in '58."

Principal Moehle also urged a deeper devotion to the best interest of the children; that everyone do his duty as a voter and that all vote for school bond issue since classroom space is badly needed.

Among other recommendations made by the principal were the setting up of a "How To Study" program in the school curriculum; a research study to effect some means of tax relief for retired people on pension. He pledged that his most important role would be that of instructional leadership, and hoped that all would work together for the best interests and welfare of the children.

Committee on Space

Following a motion by Martin J. Rubin of Phoenicia, PTA president G. Alfred Nussbaum appointed a committee to study the problem of temporary space in the school district and to report its finds and recommendations at the next meeting.

Appointed to the committee were: Mrs. William J. Hynes, Ohayo Mountain Road, chairman; Mrs. Harry Carle, Mt. Tremper; Mrs. Lindsay Hoyt, Mt. Pleasant; Mrs. Martin Rubin, Shandaken; Norman S. Wilber, Willow, and Francis Fisher, Bearsville.

After welcoming the parents, friends and teachers, Nussbaum urged that all sign up for membership in the PTA at the designated tables in the corridor. He then introduced the following committee chairmen:

By-laws, Arthur Knight; high school, Mrs. Ralph Kricker; Home Room representatives, Mrs. Francis Turck; hospitality, Mrs. Warren Nissen and Mrs. Robert Castle; legislation, Mrs. Leonard Heller; library, Mrs. Edmund Gilligan; membership, Mrs. Gordon Anderson; parent education, Mrs. H. Hucker; preschool, Mrs. Donald Munro; program, Mrs. Benjamin Gersoni; PTS news, Mrs. Bohumir Larys; publications, Mrs. George St. Pierre; publicity, Mrs. Irving Luckom; scholarship, Mrs. Noelle Gillmor; welfare and loan, Mrs. Hazel Osborne.

Biblical Messages Topic for Rev. Wilder

The final sermon in the series directing our thoughts to the Biblical message to life's problems will be preached in the churches of the Woodstock Methodist Parish Sunday. The title of the message the Rev. Garnett M. Wilder will bring is: "Let Your Bible Speak When You Are Tempted." We would naturally expect that the Bible would give us a great deal of help at this point, yet it may be that few of us know where to look in times of temptation to do wrong. Even fewer of us may have any knowledge of such passages which can help us when we cannot easily stop to begin reading the Bible. You are cordially invited to worship this Sunday and every Sunday.

The Rev. Garnett M. Wilder, minister of the churches of the Woodstock Methodist Parish, will speak at the regular meeting of the Phoenicia Rotary Club this Thursday.

The WSCS of the Woodstock Methodist Church will meet at the church hall on Thursday, Oct. 2, at 1:30 p. m. All interested ladies are invited to attend.

A roast beef dinner will be served by the men of the Methodist Church of Shady in the church hall on Saturday evening, Sept. 27. The proceeds of this dinner will be used for improvements on the church. The public is cordially invited.

'One Way to Know God' Sands' Sermon Theme

Jeremiah 22:16 forms the basis for the sermon, "One Way To Know God," when the Rev. G. Oliver Sands preaches in Christ Lutheran Church, Woodstock, Sunday morning at 11 a. m. services. This sermon will try to show that we learn to know God better when we help the poor and needy about us, when we think only of ourselves and when we despair our souls become small and shriveled.

Adult lessons this quarter at Sunday School are to be found in the new testament, "The Life of Jesus Christ" with next Sunday "Introducing the Gospel."

The H. B. class will continue work on the beginnings of our religion found in the first 11 chapters of Genesis. Parents of members are invited to sit with us at any time. Only thus can we help our 12-year olds with their study of God's Word, which is so very important in all our lives. Classes for all ages meet at the same time and we are always happy to welcome you. The last session of this year's Training Class for leaders will meet in Lutheran Redeemer Church of Kingston from 3 to 5 p. m.

High School Opens Grid Season Against Port Jervis Friday

Burke Wary as Maroon Goes for 17th Straight

Like a uranium miner who guards against over optimism before he starts digging, Coach Bill Burke—on the eve of the season's opener against Port Jervis tomorrow at 8 p. m. at Dietz Stadium—today surveyed his 1958 prospects with a soul-stirring smile that belied his conservatism.

There was nothing maudlin, nothing lachrymose in the tone, but a Kingston High School team which will seek its 17th straight victory and third consecutive DUSO League championship with a veteran backfield and inexperienced line made him wary of predictions.

The line is likely to gain the stature expected of it by Burke and assistant coach, Russ Cunningham, who trains "the horses," by mid-season.

"Our experienced backs (Jerry McDonough, Hobie Amstrong, Tony Uhl, Bob Beadle and Tom Cragan) will have to carry the brunt of the attack" Burke declared.

"We've been doing a lot of shuffling and, I think, by mid-season we'll have a real good line. Carrying the "brunt" will be McDonough at quarterback, the redoubtable Armstrong, John Parete, Bob Beadle and Cragan at halfbacks with Uhl at fullback.

He indicated Bob Decker may see some action from the plunging slot and young Cliff Miller is available to relieve McDonough.

Illness also has reared its disturbing head during recent practice sessions. Both Cragan and Parete have been fighting heavy colds and Beadle has been tormented by a neck boil.

Port Rated Green

Burke's lament that "it's been tough to field two backfields in practice" probably will not generate any sympathy in the Port Jervis camp. Port, which showed flashes of offensive brilliance last Friday night, but losing to Nyack, 27-6, has been appraised by the pundits as smacking of "greeness."

The KHS coaching corps watched the Nyack game, and apparently has geared this week's sessions to containing its "outside game and passes," on which, Burke surveyed, they concentrate.

His line is still in the formulative process, but Burke figures, since he intershifts on offense and defense, that Terry Kalish, Terry Cokery and Dave O'Connor will see service at ends. Bill Grossman, Bob Jenkins and Ed Pfeiffer are set for the guard spots with John Peck and Ray Spadafora at tackles.

Pete Leeds and Pete Letus will get the ball-snapping assignments in Burke's tenative starting lineup. The forward wall is lighter than some others Burke has fielded in that 16-game victory skein, but Cunningham and assistant coach Bill Hurley probably will have their operatives at a frenzied and eager pitch for the opener to compensate for the loss in poundage.

Streak Started in 1955

The Maroon, which defeated Port last year, 38-6, have been on a win binge since Thanksgiving Day of 1955 when they upended Newburgh, 14-6. Their last defeat came in 1955 when Poughkeepsie calsimined a Burke-coached club, 13-0. They captured eight victories in '56 and seven more last season.

Sophomore Tom Coleman and freshman Billy Morgan shared the load for Port in the Nyack contest, but despite Kingston"s weaknesses it would appear that more experience is needed to slow down the Maroon express.

Vincentian Institute, New Rochelle and Newburgh, who arrive later in the schedule, probably pose the greatest threat of disaster to the unsullied record.

Cutting chinks in the armor of Burke-coached teams has never been considered recess play among the DUSO schoolboys and with the psychological impact of a 16-game victory streak the task looks equally formidable despite the coach's adherence to conservation in the best traditions of his profession.

While the collegians have adopted the 2 or 1 formula—one for a place kick and two for a run or pass—the nation's high schools, for the most part, will do it the old-fashioned way.

36 Classes Set In Horse Show at Red Hook, Oct. 4

The ninth annual horse show at Red Hook, scheduled Saturday, Oct. 4, has 36 classes listed, it was announced today by Mrs. Edward Holt and Dr. Louis Dillman, co-chairmen.

The event, staged for the benefit of the Red Hook Student Aid Association, will be held in the Walsh and Voorhis property adjoining the high school.

Entries must be filed by Sept. 29 in order to appear in the program. Entry blanks may be obtained from Mrs. Douglas Norton, Red Hook.

Cornell Senior In Double Duty

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Cornell will deploy Ed Savitsky, a 207-pound senior, at both tackle and guard against Colgate Saturday.

The dual role loomed likely for Savitsky after Coach Lefty James reported yesterday that Woodrow Spoonaugle, a sophomore tackle, would miss the Colgate encounter because of a shoulder injury.

STARTS NUMBER 13—Place-kicking specialist Lou Groza is starting his 13th year of pro football surrounded by rookies and sophomores. He is the only original (1946) member of the Cleveland Browns still with the club. Most of his teammates broke in with the club in 1957, with seven rookies retained for the 1958 season. Bill Almashy is holding ball as Groza gets off a kick during workout in Cleveland in preparation for new season. (AP Wirephoto)

Accord, Katsbaan Win YM Autumn Loop Tilts

Basketball has settled down for a long season at the YMCA and the familiar names were riding high in the scoring column paced by Ronnie Scheffel who topped the total with 33 points.

Accord defeated Amato Trucking, 52-49, and Katsbaan trampled Wimpy's, 90-76.

Wimpy's played Katsbaan in the A League on fairly even terms until the third quarter when Scheffel broke loose and they were off like a jet. Bob Smith scored 22 in the runnerup spot while Joe Klonowski rimmed 18 for Wimpy's and Skip Brodhead bucketed 17. Ray Lawrence contributed 15.

Moore-Anahauc Clash in LA

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Featherweight challengers Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, and Mexico's Kid Anahauc meet in a 10-round fight tonight, with the winner promised a title match with the world ruler of the 126-pounders, Hogan (Kid) Bassey.

It is a rematch of an encounter in Tijuana, Mexico, last July which kicked up such a storm that troops had to quell a small revolution in the vast bull ring.

Tonight's affair at the Olympic Auditorium promises to be fast but relatively orderly.

Maragno Captures Eastern Final

Three Wiltwyck Country Club golfers were among the field in the final tournament of the Eastern New York Golf Association held Wednesday at Troy Country Club and won by Gloversville's Tony Maragno.

The three Wiltwyck players were George Coszena (Class A) 82-9-73; H. D. Jones (Class B) 84-12-72, and Mike Marchuk (Class C) 92-21-71.

Maragno, who plays out of Pine Brook, scored 37-34 against the card of 36-35-71 to be two shots better than Walter Kubica, Pontoosuc, and Fred Gniadek, Berkshire Hills, both former association champions.

Bowdry Kayo Is Followed by Trip to Hospital

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis, seventh ranking light heavyweight, was so emotionally upset after losing to Sonny Ray in Chicago Stadium Wednesday night he had to be hospitalized.

The 20-year-old fighter, stopped at 1:22 of the ninth round by the 3-1 underdog Ray, was incoherent afterwards in his dressing room, which was barred to newsmen.

His rantings could be heard through the closed door and Dr. Irving Slott, chief examining physician of the Illinois Athletic Commission, worked over him for more than 20 minutes.

Later he was taken to Columbus Hospital.

"I would say he would be in the hospital at least two days as a precautionary measure," said Dr. Slott. "He is emotionally upset and further tests to evaluate the situation must be made. He definitely is rational though."

Under Illinois rules, a fighter absorbing a kayo is suspended automatically for 30 days and such a suspension is upheld throughout the National Boxing Assn. chain.

Only three times in 26 bouts as a pro has Bowdry been defeated—all three losses being to the 22-year-old Ray.

Bowdry, a circling, machine-like combination puncher who had scored 19 KO's in the pro ranks, held the upper hand through seven rounds of the nationally televised bout.

Syracuse Banks On Aerial Game

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Syracuse football coach Ben Schwartzwalder says "we'll have to throw the ball" to beat Boston College here Saturday.

Schwartzwalder made the comment Wednesday after sending the Orange through a long defensive drill designed to blunt the passing of Eagle quarterback Don Allard.

Schwartzwalder said his own quarterback, Chuck Zimmerman, must produce a strong effort if Syracuse is to defeat the Eagles.

Two Games Launch UCAL Slate

Saugerties High Plays Arlington In DCSL Contest

Autumn's first football weekend finds two UCAL games on the schedule, but Onteora and Saugerties move into non-league domains.

The Saturday league lineup pairs Wallkill at New Paltz and Marlboro at Rondout Valley Central, while Saugerties meets Arlington at Poughkeepsie Friday night in a DCSL game and Onteora visits Cornwall in Orange County territory Saturday afternoon.

Onteora was tripped by Pawling, 19-13, on the final play of the game when the Dutchess County operatives scored from the 1-foot line. Coach Ed Witko's team is hoping for more fruitful fields in Cornwall.

Saugerties was upended by Red Hook, 20-14, when a fourth-quarter rejuvenation proved too little and too late. A pair of 20-yard runs by Don Mormile and Ted Olson put the Sawyers in contention, but Red Hook's working margin was sufficient for the win.

Arlington Rates Highly

Fritz Jordan's Arlington team gives Coach Bill Straub another rugged weekend, but Saugerties may have recovered from its opening pains and settle down for a big one.

Marlboro has a pyschological edge at Rondout Valley. With real cinema heroics, Marlboro registered its first 11-man grid victory last weekend in its 6-0 triumph over Haldane Central.

Such a dramatic achievement may be just enough to keep them on fire again this weekend, and Coach Joe Cash's sophomore-junior club, led by little Dom DiCapua, could keep Rondout busy for the afternoon.

Auburn Native Midwest Click

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Frank Reginelli of Auburn, N. Y., has taken over as a first-string halfback on the Marquette football team.

Reginelli, a stylish runner and good blocker, won the job for his work in Marquette's defeat of South Dakota State last Saturday. The 18-7 victory broke Marquette's 20-game losing streak, the longest in the nation among major colleges.

He played the position ina lengthy drill Wednesday.

GOOD TO THE END—For a time it was said that Willie Mays wasn't contributing as much to the San Francisco Giants as he might have, but the Say Hey Kid came down to the wire swinging for the National League batting title.

Saugerties Sportsmen Set Log Deflector in Stream

Members of The Saugerties Fish & Game Club's stream improvement committee erected their first structure—a log deflector—in the Plattekill stream in Blue Mountain last Sunday.

The purpose of the structure is to prevent further erosion of the stream's north bank at this point and also to provide an additional hiding place for trout.

Some work remains yet to be done. The deflector must be filled in and around with rock and the stream channel below the structure must be graded according to Conservation Department specifications.

Committee Members

Members of the Committee who helped with the work were Art Sperl, chairman; William Ormandy and Henry Simmons. Others who helped were Carlton King, Ulster County Federation president and a member of the Saugerties club; Chet Joy, stream improvement chairman of the Federation and also a member of the Saugerties club; Vincent Berzal, secretary of the Saugerties club; and John Guagnaro.

Also present and willing workers were Explorer Scouts Bruce and Rick Ormandy and Frank Caruso. The work was ably supervised by Carl Cross of Cairo, foreman of the Conservation Department's stream improvement crew.

Everett Mower very generously donated his time and the use of his back-hoe to assist in the work. Art Sperl, chairman, would especially like to thank all who helped.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held on Monday evening, Sept. 29, at 8 p. m. in the Snyder Hose rooms in the Municipal Building on Partition Street. All committees will report at that time. Also, to be brought up under new business, will be a suggestion to hold a competitive shoot, some Sunday before the opening of the regular hunting season.

Little, Smith Score In Quarter-Final Sets

Little ousted Nottingham in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4, and Smith eliminated Dave Becker, 6-1, 6-2.

Long delays because of inclement weather and court conditions forced postponement of most opening round matches, but brisk, fall temperatures found the favored players moving up the last two days.

Defending champion George Baron toppled Walter Harner, 6-1, 6-1, but an opening round surprise was Nottingham's conquest of Fred Del Rosario by 6-1, 6-1 scores.

In other first round meetings, Phil Faluotico defeated Herb DeKay, 14-12, 6-1, and Little scored a 6-1, 7-5 win over Marty Tirsch. Stu Strickland eliminated Vince Pehling, 6-2, 6-3.

Smith met stiff opposition in L. J. Dean but went on to score a 6-2, 6-4 victory.

James Hirsch was leading Chet Fox, 6-1, with the second set tied 4-4 when darkness forced a halt. The match will be completed tonight. A tournament favorite, Marty Kaye, has returned to college and thereby defaulted to Becker.

Willie Mays Just Keeps Goin'

Frisco Slugger Boosts Batting Lead to .0019

By ED WILKS

With three games to play, Willie has upped his lead over Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn to .0019 in their rousing run for the National League batting title.

Mays was 2-for-3 for San Francisco as the Giants lost 10-3 to the Chicago Cubs Wednesday, padding his average to .3458 in an 11-game surge in which he has batted at a .528 clip. Ashburn, batting .3439, was idle, returning to action Friday night with the Phils, who also have three games left.

Los Angeles defeated St. Louis 4-3 in the only other NL game scheduled.

Mays walloped a double and triple as the Giants, within one victory of clinching third place, overhauled a 3-1 Chicago lead. But the Cubs cracked the tie with two runs in the eighth on an error and three singles, then splurged for five runs in the ninth, three on Lou Jackson's triple. Don Elston (8-8) was the winner, Ray Monzant (8-10) the loser, both in relief.

Stan Musial was 2-for-4 for the Cards, gaining two points for a third place .336 average in the bat race.

Colgate Squad Is Given Rest

HAMILTON, N. Y. (AP) — Colgate's football team, hurt by injuries, will take it easy the rest of the week.

Coach Fred Rice, cancelling heavy contact work, said Wednesday he was concerned about the team's physical condition only three days before the opener at Ithaca against Cornell.

Several players have sprains or pulled muscles.

Nice Guy Lopez Second

Gets Runnerup Slot for 8th Straight Time

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Memo to Al Lopez: Welcome home, coach.

The nice guy skipper of the Chicago White Sox, after spending 54 days of the season in the second division and a month in the cellar, has clinched second place again.

In his 11 years as a manager, the last eight in the majors, Lopez never has finished lower than second.

But while that 4-3, 10-inning victory over Detroit Wednesday kept his record clear, it also fattened affable Al's frustration. He's the only American League manager excepting Casey Stengel who each spring insists the New York Yankees can be had.

And since he came up to the majors in 1951 to manage Cleveland, he's the only skipper who has managed to beat the Yankees, taking the 1954 flag when his Injuns won 111 games, an AL record.

The Yankees, who had lost six straight since the day they clinched the pennant, ended their longest losing string in more than two years by busting Boston 7-5. Cleveland blew a chance to break a third place tie with Boston and Detroit by losing 7-4 at Kansas City. Baltimore handed the Washington Senators their fifth shutout in six games, 2-0, on the three-hit pitching of Arnie Portocarrero.

The White Sox won on Jim Landis' triple and Sherm Lollar's single in the 10th off losing reliever Tom Morgan (2-5). Don Rudolph (1-0) won it in relief.

Boston's Pete Runnels (1-for)4) kept the AL bat lead, at .324, while teammate Ted Williams (2-for-3) passed Detroit's Harvey Kuenn for second place at .320.

Runnels Credits Williams' Tips

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Pete Runnels credits Boston's left field wall and tips from his No. 1 challenger, Ted Williams, for his lead in the tight American League batting race.

With only four games to play, the quiet Texan has a .324 mark—four points ahead of defending champion Williams.

It doesn't sound logical that the Fenway Park left field wall would aid a left-handed batter, but the spray-hitting Red Sox infielder has proved it's true in his case.

"I'm not conscious I'm doing anything different than in previous years," Runnels said. "I do feel, however, that the left field wall has helped me quite a bit here. I have hit some balls off the wall here I know would be outs in other parks."

Acquired from Washington in the greatest Boston deal since Jackie Jensen came from the Senators in '54, Runnels stresses his big assist from Williams.

"Ted has helped me quite a bit this year," Pete said. "Williams told me to choke up my grip more on the bat as I got tired. The last couple of weeks I've been doing just that and have been getting the bat around faster on the ball."

Rams Sell Out Coliseum Tix

LOS ANGELES (AP) — No matter where they finish in the National Football League race, the Rams have it made again at the box office.

Season tickets for Los Angeles' home games are sold out, from goal to goal in the vast expanse of Memorial Coliseum. All indications point to the Rams leading the league once more in over-all gross.

The Rams had a 6-6 record at the end of the 1958 season, but they played to more than one million persons — the first time that had been done by any team, college or pro.

Little Series Starts Friday

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Royals, winners of the International League pennant and playoffs, and the Minneapolis Millers, victorious in the American Assn. playoffs, square off Friday night in the first game of the Little World Series.

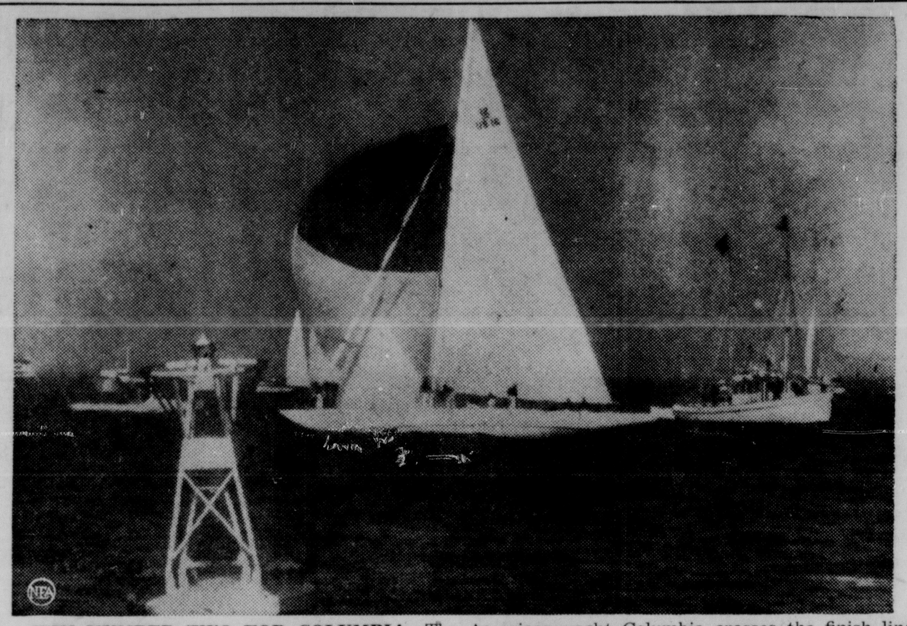

The Royals won the right to represent the International League Wednesday night by downing the Toronto Maple Leafs 11-10 for a 4-1 victory in the best-of-seven series. The Millers previously qualified by knocking off Denver, winner of the series last year, in four straight games.

The first three games will be played in Montreal. Then they shift to Minneapolis for completion of the best-of-seven set.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene—

For 50 years, the studios have operated the same as most businesses—from 9 in the morning until 6 at night. Sinatra is now doing his third film on a noon to 8 schedule, and he thinks it's the greatest. The picture is "Some Came Running," and Frank said it was over four days ahead of schedule.

Sensible System

"My system makes sense," he argued. "Most show people have learned to perform at their best in the afternoon and evening. Why should they be required to work in the morning just to follow the custom?

"This way, you can get a good sleep and start work refreshed. It's especially great for the girls, who can get up at 9 instead of 5 a.m. to start their makeup and hairdressing. We have a break for a meal at 4 and eat right on the set. Very often we'll finish much before 8 because we move so fast.

Does he have any trouble convincing the studios of his shooting method? "No, we just tell them that's how I like to work, and that's that."

4-Day Week Next

Vincent Price has done 80 TV shows, mostly quizzes, in the past three years and says no one has slipped him a fix yet. "It would have saved me a lot of trouble," he says. "I had to memorize an entire encyclopedia of art." The prequiz conversations are rehearsed, he admitted—"Otherwise you might have five minutes of silence." . . .

The social whirl: June Allyson lighted up her hilltop estate to celebrate hubby Dick Powell's start of a third season with the Zane Grey Theater on TV. They have a fabulous 50-acre place complete with private lake. Says June: "I like it so much I don't want to leave to make a picture."

Among those sampling antipasto on the terrace: Richard Egan and his bride, Pat Hardy; the Lloyd Nolans; Lew Ayres and Joanne Dru, a promising duo.

Major Pleads Innocent

KAISERSLAUTERN, Germany (AP)—Maj. Leonard V. Bailey, of Salt Lake City, who boasts a 16-year untarnished service record in the U.S. Army, went on trial before a court-martial today and pleaded innocent to beating up Timmie Rogers, a touring Negro entertainer.

The plea was offered by the six-foot major's defense counsel, Maj. E. M. Chandler, 39, Memphis, Tenn.

Village Approves Drafts on New Glasco Water Line

An engineers specifications and blue prints for installation of auxiliary water mains supplying Glasco Water District estimated to cost between $20,000 to $30,000 were approved by Saugerties Village Board at a meeting this week. Bids will be opened Tuesday, Oct. 14 in the trustee rooms, Saugerties Municipal Building.

Specifications of Morrell Vrooman, consulting engineers of Gloversville call for the installation of a new 10-inch cement-lined water main to supplement the 3,000 feet of six-inch line connecting Glasco Water District with the Saugerties system. The six-inch line now the connecting link between the two systems has been the topic of discussion at a special meeting of both Town and Village Boards, and a hearing on the extension of Glasco Water District to include approximately 60 additional homes in two Barclay Heights housing developments.

It was brought out at the meetings that the six-inch main was slowing down the amount of water coming into the Glasco system, and creating a pressure problem due to the increased number of consumers in the district.

The problem of low pressure was first made public when Glasco water commissioners placed restrictions on excessive use of water in the district last summer.

Specifications call for the installation of 4,167 feet of 10-inch main, and replacement of pavement, sidewalk or landscaping damaged during the installation. Other items included will be four hydrants, four cross overs and controls.

The new line will be routed under East Bridge Street to Mill and Burt Streets, and along Route 9W connecting with the Glasco system at Overbaugh Street.

The new installation will be designed to supplement the 3,000 feet of six-inch line and in the event of any future trouble in either line, the other may be used without interrupting the service to the Glasco system.

It was brought out at the meeting that the new line will improve fire protection for the south side of the village and will bring about a considerable saving in fire insurance to those residents included in the extension of the Glasco District.

At a previous meeting of the village board it was brought out that the installation cost of the new line would be paid by using the village water board's surplus each year. No raise in village water rents is anticipated.

At the hearing on the extension of the Glasco system last week it was reported that the village receives about $9,000 per year in revenue from the Glasco District which purchases its water from the village.

Youth Council Sets Halloween Parade and Dance

Preliminary arrangements for the Halloween observance in Saugerties Oct. 31, were made at a meeting of Saugerties Youth Council Wednesday night at Saugerties village clerk's office.

The annual observance will include a costume parade open to all townships and village residents and a teenage dance in Saugerties Municipal Auditorium following the presentation of costume awards.

Mrs. Albert L. Gianotti, social activities chairman will head the Halloween observance committee.

Other members of the committee include Council Secretary Mrs. John Feldmann; Mrs. Jeannette Mormile, Mrs. Marian Eckert; Peter Pocalyco and Council Chairman Albert J. Cawein.

The costume parade through the village business district will start at 7 p. m. from the municipal building and judging for many costume awards will be made following the march in the village auditorium.

Following the judging the annual teenage dance will be held. A large committee of teenagers for the local schools will be in charge of the dance arrangements and hall decorations.

Mrs. Eckert, treasurer of the council, reported on the success of the council's block party and dance during the July 4 weekend at Cantine Memorial Field.

Benjamin, sports activities chairman, reported that plans are underway to start the council's basketball league in November. His request for a letter of thanks to the Saugerties Village Board for insurance coverage of youngsters during the basketball games at the auditorium was approved by the members.

The next meeting was set for Wednesday, Oct. 8.

Church Council Plans Religious Survey of Town

A religious survey of the Saugerties area will be initiated by Saugerties Area Council of Churches on November 16, it was announced at the regular meeting of the organization held at Mt. Marion Reformed Church Monday night.

A special survey committee appointed for the project will be headed by Edward Kiernan, council secretary, and assisted by David S. Cunningham and a representative of each member church.

This will be the second religious survey conducted in the Town of Saugerties in recent years. About five years ago the Saugerties Ministerial Association conducted a similar survey.

Reformation services Sunday, Oct. 26 at 8 p. m.; Thanksgiving service Wednesday, Nov. 26 at 8 p. m., and Christmas service Sunday, December 14 at 8 p. m. Locations of the combined special services will be announced. The youth choir under the direction of Donald S. Fellows, choir director of Atonement Lutheran Church, will sing at the special services.

The Rev. Frederick Imhoff, pastor of Saugerties Congregational Church, and president of the council presented the executive committee recommendations regarding the special services and a schedule of regular monthly meetings.

The Rev. Walter Cowan, new pastor of Atonement Lutheran Church was introduced. He responded with appropriate comments and invited the members of the council to his installation services Sunday evening, Oct. 5 at Atonement Church.

The meeting was held following a dinner served at 6 o'clock. All of the eight churches comprising the council were represented by their pastors, and elected lay representatives. The dinner was served by the ladies of Mt. Marion Church.

P-TA Banquet Ticket Deadline Is Friday

The ticket reservation deadline for the Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association banquet Wednesday, 7 p. m. at Mt. Marion School is Friday.

The banquet, the first event to be held by the association this year, will help to welcome new members of the Saugerties Central Schools faculty. Turkey or roast beef dinner will be served. Following the dinner there will be dancing to the music of the Mello-Tones.

Reservations may be made with any member of the banquet committee consisting of Mrs. Elizabeth Overbagh, Mrs. Vera Jacobs, and Robert Shapiro.

Student Commended For Library Assistance

During the vacation days of July and August, Susan Staples, a Saugerties Central High School student devoted her spare time to community service spending 187 hours as a volunteer assistant at Saugerties Public Library, according to Mrs. Vera I. Mack, librarian.

Susan performed various tasks, such as helping process 300 new library books, typing cards for cataloguing, repairing, remarking and shelving special books and presiding at the charging desk. Over 8,000 library books circulated from the Public Library during this summer period. Mrs. Mack said.

"With her heart and mind in her project, Susan rendered splendid service. Her helpfulness reflects the wholesome attitude of many of the youths of America. During her Junior year at Saugerties High School, Susan was the recipient of honor prizes awarded at the commencement exercises. She has been active in the affairs of the Saugerties Dutch Reformed Church and during this, her senior year, she is managing editor of "The Sawyer," Saugerties High School annual. Beside being a member of the debating team Susan is active in school music circles.

"With her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Staples, sister Andy and brothers, Topper and Tim, Susan lives in Malden in an attractive home overlooking the Hudson River," Mrs. Mack concluded.

Can't Lease Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Rogers told the U.S. District Court in Arkansas today that the Little Rock School Boarl cannot legally lease its high school buildings to a private corporation for operation on a segregated basis.

The attorney general said the Justice Department as a "friend of the court" in the Little Rock school litigation, had been served with a copy of the board's request that Federal Judge John E. Miller rule on the question of proposed leasing.

Taipei Claims 16 Red Guns Silenced

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry today claimed artillery fire from Quemoy knocked out 16 Communist guns and six artillery emplacements Wednesday.

Nationalist gunners also blew up a mainland ammunition depot, a gasoline store and a radar station, the ministry said.

Won't Press U. S.

Communist shelling of the offshore islands started off its 34th day with 1,852 rounds by noon, according to Nationalist count. The Reds hurled 6,211 shells at the Quemoys Wednesday, the min-

Qualified sources in Taipei said the Nationalists were not pressing the United States to assent to Nationalists bombing of the mainland gun positions. The U.S. ban is intended to keep the fighting over the Quemoys from spreading to Formosa, which Washington is pledged to defend.

Fighting between Red China and the United States could lead to a major war.

"We understand fully and sympathetically America's position, said a Nationalist official who declined to be identified.

10 MIGS Shot Down

The Nationalists accused the Communists of trying to force Nationalist jet fighters over the mainland in the hope of shooting one down and claiming it was raiding Red China.

In the resulting aerial battle between 32 Nationalist Sabre Jets and more than 100 Soviet-designed MIG17s, 10 MIGs were shot down and two more possibly destroyed, the Defense Ministry said. The claim was based on study of gun camera films by both Chinese and U.S. Air Force experts.

The ministry denied a Peiping radio claim that one Sabre Jet was shot down and one damaged.

Denies Peiping Claim

The U.S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense Command denied a Red Chinese broadcast claim that "two U.S. F4D fighters intruded over Communist China's territorial airspace in the Amoy area in Fukien province Wednesday." The F4D is a carrier-based Navy supersonic jet fighter. Amoy is just west of Quemoy.

On Quemoy, the chief U.S. military adviser was still worried about getting supplies through the Red artillery blockade, AP correspondent Forrest Edwards reported.

Eddyville Arches Are Being Placed

The two halves of the Eddyville bridge arch were being jacked horizontally into position today as The Freeman went to press.

A spokesman for the Shanahan Construction Co. of Ellenville said the two sections still had to be moved about a foot and a half in a horizontal direction. The two sections of the arch are supported on two barges in Rondout creek which will be spanned by the new structure.

When the horizontal operation is completed the two sections of the arch will be jacked vertically some 25 feet and the ends fitted into the abutments on the north and south banks of the creek. This operation may begin Friday.

The two sections will then be welded together where they meet in the middle.

Stringers will be laid for the roadbed and reinforced concrete poured.

The arch is expected to be in position about Oct. 6. Pouring of concrete should begin before the end of October with the bridge ready for use by the end of November.

Pakistan Official Dies

DACCA, Pakistan (AP) — The deputy speaker of the East Pakistan Provincial Assembly died today of injuries suffered when opposition members assaulted him in the Assembly.

Syed Zahid Ali was attacked Tuesday when he took the chair to replace Speaker Abdul Hakim, who was injured in an Assembly riot last Saturday.

Hakim supported the opposition to the ruling Awami League and was voted out of the speaker's office.

But when Ali—a supporter of the league—tried to replace him, opposition members hurled chairs and other pieces of furniture at him.

Probe Havana Blaze

HAVANA (AP)—Authorities today were trying to find out what caused a fire which destroyed the main administration building of Havana's International Jose Marti Airport.

They refused to say whether sabotage was suspected. Informants suggested the fire broke out accidentally Wednesday in containers of movie film stored in a warehouse.

Damage was estimated at two million dollars. Three persons were slightly injured. An RKO movie company was shooting on the second floor.

Condemned Man Will Meet Folsom Friday

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Jimmy Wilson, sentenced to die Oct. 24 for the robbery of an elderly white widow, Friday will meet Gov. James E. Folsom, who is reportedly ready to spare his life.

A clemency hearing for the illiterate handyman has been set in the governor's office.

Folsom has refused to say publicly what he might do, but sources close to the governor have said they expect him to commute Wilson's death sentence to life imprisonment.

Wilson, who had served two previous prison terms for grand larceny, was sentenced to death for the robbery of 82-year-old Mrs. Estelle Barker at her home at Marion, Ala. Mrs. Barker testified that before taking the money — $1.95—the Negro choked her and attempted to rape her.

Wilson wasn't charged with attempted rape, which carries a maximum penalty of 20 years imprisonment. He was indicted for robbery and nighttime larceny, both capital offenses, and was tried only on the first charge.

Indicts Mack, Another

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grand jury here today indicted Richard A. Mack, former member of the Federal Communications Commission, and Miami lawyer Thurman A. Whiteside on charges of conspiring to defraud the United States.

The indictment, returned after a five-month investigation, alleged that Mack and Whiteside had improper dealings while the FCC was considering a four-way contest for TV channel 10 at Miami.

Whiteside was backing Public Service Television, Inc., National Airlines subsidiary, which won the channel.

Polaris, Missile Give Canaveral 7 Exciting Hours

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Cape and the missile-mad town of Coca Beach returned to normal today after a hectic seven hours during which a Polaris test rocket ran amok and another missile crashed and burned.

No one was hurt, but quite a few persons were shaken for a time.

The area, a finger of land that juts out into the Atlantic off Florida's east coast, was bombed with fiery debris Wednesday when the Polaris twisted crazily off course and was blasted from the sky.

Later, an X10 experimental missile crashed and disappeared in flames when it overshot the cape landing strip after completing a test with the Air Force's Bomarc air defense missile.

Threatened Mainland

The Polaris burst into two parts at about 50,000 feet after a quick-thinking range safety officer pressed an automatic destruction button. His instruments showed the rocket was tipping toward the densely populated mainland rather than curving out over the Atlantic.

One flaming section splashed into the Banana River beside Cocoa Beach and the other landed on the cape after tracing puffy trails of white smoke across the sky.

It was the first time that a runaway missile threatened a residential area since the cape opened in 1950.

It was learned that the rocket went out of control when a malfunction developed in the programer, a small electrical device that directs the control system.

As far as it was known, it was the first time one U.S. missile had been fired at another in a test.

The results of the test were not announced.

May Quit NATO

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Greek press reports today said Greece's withdrawal from NATO may be considered certain if Britain ignores warnings against putting the Macmillan plan for Cyprus into effect Oct. 1.

The plan calls for a freeze until 1965 on deciding the future of the Mediterranean island. Meantime, there would be Greek and Turkish legislatures and representatives to advise the British governor.

Reject Fuchs' Bid

LONDON (AP)—British authorities have turned down a bid by convicted atom spy Klaus Fuchs to do scientific work outside prison during the last months of his term.

Fuchs was convicted in 1950 of turning over British-American atomic secrets to the Soviet Union. He was sentenced to 14 years in prison but could be freed as early as next July with time off for good conduct.

Judge Is Threatened

LONDON (AP) — A murder-threat letter has been sent Justice Cyril Salmon, the British judge who sentenced nine white youths to four-year jail terms for attacking Negroes. He was given a police guard.

Dog Wanted Ride

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP)—It took several Humane Society workers to help a woman motorist get rid of her unwanted hitchhiker. The motorist said the huge boxer dog jumped into her parked car in Mount Clemens. "He was so big I didn't dare throw him out," she said.
